MEAT CEILING
PRICES COME
BACK SEPT. 9BLACK MARKETEERS
PROMISED HARD
GOING BY OPA

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Price Administrator Paul Porter announced today that retail meat price ceilings will be restored Sept. 9 and promised to "throw the book" at black marketeers.

"There is no substantial basis for reports that we are going back to widespread black markets," he told a news conference. "I hope packers will devote a substantial part of their energy to make re-control work—at least as much energy as they devoted to trying to get rid of controls."

Scarcities Predicted
Industry spokesmen and other foes of meat controls already are predicting the possible return of black markets and scarcities.

A statement by the United States Chamber of Commerce declared that "the order unquestionably will reduce the meat supply" because grains, left uncontrolled, will "drain" into "production not under control."

At the same time the CIO released a statement from its president, Philip Murray, contending that "recontrolling of meats means very little when livestock and poultry feed products are left free of controls." Murray announced the CIO will urge the new decontrol board to "reinstitute ceilings on all items which it failed to control."

Recontrol Staggered
Porter announced that flour price ceilings will be raised seven cents per 100 pounds Friday to reflect a higher parity price on wheat.

He set Sept. 9 as the date for restoring retail ceilings on salad and cooking oils, and Sept. 3 for reimposing ceilings at all levels on soy beans, flaxseed and by-product feed grains.

Porter renewed his previous statements that the new meat price ceilings will be "at or near" the levels of those which died June 30. He explained that increases on some meats probably will be necessary to meet parity price requirements, and emphasized:

"I have been careful to say that the new ceilings will be at or near June 30 levels."

The ceilings will be restored on a staggered plan which will put them into effect on livestock Aug. 29, at the packing house Sept. 1, at wholesale levels Sept. 5, and in the retail butcher shop Sept. 9.

Porter explained that the OPA and the agriculture department decided upon the staggered time schedule in order to "clean out overhauling meat" which dealers have on hand.

Investigators Increased
Pleading vigorous efforts to enforce the ceilings, Porter said:

"We will have twice as many investigators on meat as we ever had before. We will hit a level of 2,500 investigators in September—easily double the previous number."

Bread ceilings, recently increased by one cent a loaf, will be cut by the same amount as soon as restrictions on the milling of flour have been lifted by the agriculture department, Porter said. He had no information on when these restrictions may be removed.

Asked whether OPA plans to remove ceilings on flour, Porter said controls will remain in effect as long as the curb on milling of wheat does.

As for the board's order that dairy products and most grains remain uncontrolled, Porter commented:

"I would have to be less than

Record Corn Crop
Of 3,442,202,000
Bushels Forecast

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Agriculture Department, in a special report, today estimated this year's corn crop at a record of 3,442,202,000 bushels, based on conditions on Aug. 15.

This estimate compared with 3,496,820,000 previously estimated for Aug. 1 and with the previous record crop of 3,203,310,000 harvested in 1944. Last year's crop was 3,018,410,000 bushels and production for the ten-year (1935-44) period averaged 2,608,499,000.

The latest figure included Aug. 15 production estimates for 12 important corn-producing states in the midwest and Aug. 1 estimates for other states.

A corn crop of the size indicated would go far toward relieving a shortage of grains that has forced curtailment in the production of livestock and poultry during the spring and summer.

The Aug. 15 estimate by the 12 midwestern corn-belt states and the Aug. 1 estimate, respectively, included:

Ohio 185,612,000 and 189,400,000 bushels; Indiana 247,775,000 and 247,775,000; Illinois 515,508,000 and 497,420,000; Michigan 60,126,000 and 69,236,000; Wisconsin 109,435,000 and 114,525,000; Iowa 673,318,000 and 673,318,000; Missouri 184,997,000 and 184,977,000; and Kentucky 92,797,000 and 86,835,000.

The department said the indicated decline of about 55,000,000 bushels in production prospects between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15 resulted principally from dry weather was said to have been most severe in Southern Michigan and Southern Kansas.

CATTLE MARKET
PRICES SOARINGBig Packers Buy Few
Of Animals Offered
At Chicago Yards

Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—Prices in the cattle market soared to a new record of $28.40 today in one of the last spurs before re-imposition of price controls, but receipts were light and big packers bought few of the animals offered.

Cattle receipts in Chicago were 3,500 head, as compared with 8,007 last Wednesday. Light receipts were also predicted for tomorrow.

A spokesman for Swift and Co. said that because of the uncertain market conditions, Swift had been able to buy only a few animals, depending on the price. He said that until "we know what the new OPA ceilings will be, it is difficult for us to form any buying policy."

Hog receipts in Chicago were 1,500 yesterday, compared with 7,351 last Wednesday and 10,097 a year ago.

The top price of $28.40 was paid for two loads of good and choice steers. The next highest price was $28.00 a hundred pounds. Such offerings were taken by eastern buyers.

Pentagon General
Has Narrow Escape
From Stray Bullet

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The narrow escape in 1942 of a now-retired major general came to light today as evidence that even a swivel-chair in the Pentagon Building was not necessarily a place of safety during the war.

War department officials disclosed a still-unresolved mystery in which only a chance movement saved Maj. Gen. Gladeon M. Barnes from a bullet which whizzed through the window glass of his fourth floor office.

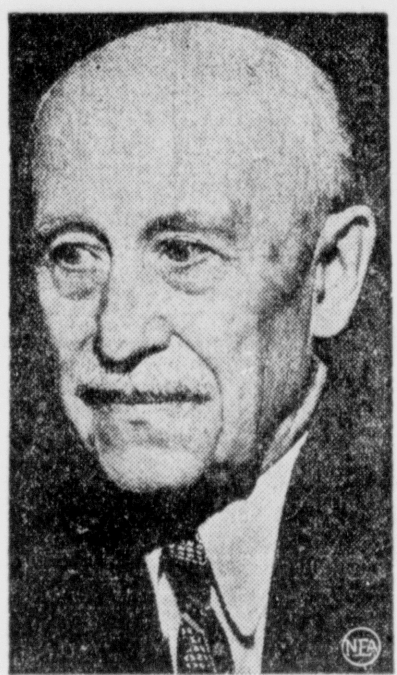

Barnes, who retired from the Army this year, was seated at his desk in a swivel chair, and he happened to swing around just as the bullet zipped by, narrowly missing him. It came, officials related, from the fifth floor of the building, then unfinished and accessible only to workmen.

Husband Charged
With Chaining Wife
To Bed Surrenders

Beattyville, Ky., Aug. 21 (AP)—Ben Chapman, 30, sought for ten days by sheriff's officers in connection with a charge that he chained his 22-year-old wife to a bedpost, surrendered today to County Judge Cecil Kincaid.

Judge Kincaid said a brother and a cousin of the young man brought Chapman into town. Chapman was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery and was bound to the grand jury. He posted $200 bond.

The judge said Chapman declined to comment concerning the charge.

AUSTRIA WANTS
AID FROM U. N.Dispute With Italy Over South Tyrol Brought Up At Paris

BY MEL MOST

Paris, Aug. 21 (AP)—Austrian Foreign Minister Karl Gruber appealed to the 21-nation peace conference today to settle his nation's dispute with Italy over the South Tyrol, and to give Austria a part in the international administration of Trieste.

Gruber was one of six spokesmen for non-member nations invited to the plenary session, several of whom loosed a barrage of claims against Italy's territory and assets—the largest plums before the conference. Albania, Mexico, and Egypt all asked reparations from the Italians.

In addition, Egypt demanded frontier rectifications in North Africa and appealed for recognition of Libya as an independent nation with its administration in transition under a member of the Arab league. Only Cuba had no claims against the Italians.

Discussions of all these appeals was postponed until tomorrow, when Iran, whose delegation did not arrive in time today, was scheduled to present her views.

Albania and Cuba both demanded full membership in the conference. In addition, Albania demanded that the Italian treaty draft be amended to permit her to sign that treaty.

Reds Revive Peace
Talks In China As Offensive Moves

Nanking, Aug. 21 (AP)—Chinese Communists renewed peace talks today, while the government reportedly was moving thousands of troops into Manchuria and the Red offensive in Central China reached "the outskirts" of Tating, vital Shansi province rail junction.

The government acknowledged that Communists had placed the Tating garrison "in a very critical position."

Communist Leaders Chou En-Lai and Wan Ping-Nan conferred with U. S. Ambassador John Leighton Stuart for two hours "exchanging general views" on peace moves, Wang explained. "This indicates," he added, "that we have not ceased talks aimed at peaceful settlement."

Government Minister of Information Peng Hsueh-Pei, reporting the crisis at Tating, first termed the Communist attacks there "a rebellion." Chiang Kai-shek recently proclaimed his determination "to put down rebellions."

Minister Peng, questioned about this explained that the Chinese word, "fankung," really had two meanings—"offensive" and "rebellion." He meant "offensive," he said.

The government, he added, is not taking seriously Communists' recent "mobilization" calls.

Woman Says Bandit
Got Her $700 At Grand Rapids Bank

Grand Rapids, Aug. 21 (AP)—Police are searching for a bandit who today forced a woman depositor to according to her story, withdraw $700 from the Peoples National bank and turn the money over to him.

The victim, Mrs. Fannie Waldron, of Grand Rapids, told detectives the bandit poked her with what she believed to be a revolver and she was too frightened to make an outcry in the bank and before passerby in the street.

HALT CALLED IN RED PLANS
OF EXPANSIONBID FOR CONTROL
OF DARDANELLES
HIT BY U. S.BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic
Reporter

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The United States called today for a halt in expansion of Russian power over other nations, emphatically rejecting a Soviet demand seen here as a bid for domination of the Dardanelles.

High officials said the action is a move for a showdown with Russia over expansion of its sphere of control in Europe and Asia. The real issue, they said, is the independence of Turkey and beyond that the sovereignty of Iraq, Iran, Afghanistan and other nations on the borders of India and possibly China.

Relations At Low Ebb
Coming on top of the angry dispute with Soviet-supported Yugoslavia over firing on American airplanes, undercover concern here over the mysterious rocket barrage against Sweden, and conflicts with Communist dominated Balkan states, the action on the Dardanelles reduced relations between the western powers and Russia to the lowest point since the end of the war.

As the diplomatic relations reached this stage, a navy spokesman disclosed that two cruisers and three destroyers will accompany the powerful new aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt on its "training cruise" to the Mediterranean. The carrier sailed from Lisbon today.

The rejection of the Soviet demand on the Dardanelles was contained in a note sent to the Russian government through its embassy here and made public by the state department. In the note the United States announced its readiness to participate in an international conference on the future of the straits and this was interpreted by some diplomatic authorities as a declaration of American intentions to have a powerful voice in all major Mediterranean affairs.

In Ankara, British and American diplomats were reported conferring with top Turkish officials to make clear the full backing of the United States and Britain to Turkey in resisting any Russian encroachment on that country's domain.

Britain has taken the same position on the straits as the American government.

In what appeared to be a direct warning to Russia against any kind of aggressive action, the American note signed by Undersecretary of State Acheson declared:

"It is the firm opinion of this government that Turkey should continue to be primarily responsible for the defense of the straits. Should the straits become the object of attack or threat of attack by an aggressor, the resulting situation would constitute a threat to international security and would clearly be a matter for action on the part of the security council of the United Nations."

Varied Items Off
OPA Ceiling List

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—OPA today announced removal of price ceilings on another list of miscellaneous items. Included were: Rentals on buses, two hours or more; more than 40,000 pounds or more gross weight, and smaller trucks used as tank trucks, garbage trucks, patrol wagons, snow plows and street sprinklers, effective Thursday.

Liquid and dry malt syrups and maltose syrups, both bulk and packaged, effective Thursday.

A number of chemical products including cyanides used in case hardening steel, electroplating operations, or dehairing skins in the leather industry; beeswax compositions containing 50 percent or more beeswax, and cleaning fluids packaged for household use and based on alkyl benzene sulfonate. The action becomes effective Thursday.

Minister to Greece
Recalled; Yugoslavs
Cite Insult To Tito

Belgrade, Aug. 21 (AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today that the Yugoslav minister to Greece had been "brought back for an indefinite period of leave" because the Yugoslav government had not received a satisfactory answer to protests against "insults to Marshal Tito in the Greek press."

The spokesman said the Yugoslav minister had not been recalled, and that the legation in Athens would still operate. He emphasized that diplomatic relations between the two countries had not been broken.

First Break Comes
In Shipping Strike
On Lake Carriers

Detroit, Aug. 21 (AP)—The first apparent "break" in the week-old Great Lakes shipping strike was reported at Chicago tonight by Federal Conciliator Noel P. Fox who said a "tentative understanding" had been reached by negotiators for Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and the CIO National Maritime Union.

Fox said terms of the proposal would be submitted to union members tomorrow for ratification. He declared that Standard operates a fleet of five tankers.

The Chicago development came a short time after three tanker companies, involved in the strike, telegraphed from Cleveland an appeal to President Truman "to take prompt action to require the NMU to live up to its agreement to operate such vessels until Dec. 10, 1946."

HOUSING FRONT
'BIG PUSH' NEARNon-Residential Slash
Hinted To Speed Up
New Homes

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt tonight announced a "big push" on the housing front, hinting at a deep new cut in non-residential building to check the drain of materials away from new homes.

Some of his aides disclosed that Wyatt proposes a 30 to 50 percent cut in the already reduced volume of office, store and factory construction.

The aim of a "series of sweeping steps" now being prepared, Wyatt said in a statement, is to speed completion before winter of thousands of homes and apartments started this year but not finished, and to get more new homes under way.

Final decision on the slash in non-residential building has not been reached by Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small, housing officials reported, but they indicated Small had agreed in principle to a reduction.

"Tough action is needed and such action is justified at the present time," Wyatt declared.

Old Cars Take Boat
Trip From Buffalo,
Chug To Dearborn

Detroit, Aug. 21 (AP)—A caravan of Maxwells, Chalmers, Ramblers, Locomobiles, Whites, Reos, old-time Fords and other old automobiles chugged and wheezed out Michigan avenue to suburban Dearborn today.

It was part of the trip marking the reenactment of the famous Glidden tours of the early part of this century.

The collection of auto antiques, welcomed to Detroit by Mayor Edward J. Jeffries and Benson Ford, arrived today but not on their own power. They came by boat from Buffalo.

The caravan left New York Sunday, led by Opera Singer James H. Melton. At Buffalo the group boarded a lake steamer.

At Dearborn the old-time auto enthusiasts were guests of the Ford Motor Co., whose mechanics also provided any repairs necessary to the old cars.

Tomorrow the drivers will tour Ford and General Motors plants, then board a boat for Cleveland and the return trip to New York.

The trip is sponsored by the Veteran Motor Car Club of America.

Two Bodies Taken
From Sunrise Lake
After Plane Crash

Red City, Mich., Aug. 21 (AP)—Bodies of two victims of a plane crash in Sunrise lake have been recovered.

Kenneth D. Spencer, 26, and Jack Matthews, 25, both of Grosse Ile, were the occupants of the light private plane that fell in the lake Tuesday night. Spencer was the pilot.

The craft, witnesses told state police, plunged into 40 feet of water a few seconds after the engine sputtered and quit.

300 POLIO CASES

Lansing, Aug. 21 (AP)—Twenty new polio cases were reported to the state health department today making the total Michigan case load 300, Dr. William Dekleine, commissioner, said today.

Four of the new cases were from Detroit placing the Detroit total at 120.

The three companies—Cleveland Tankers Inc. of New York and Great Lakes Transport of Detroit—said "ninety-four per cent of all tanker vessels operating on the Great Lakes are tied up as a result of the strike by the National Maritime Union."

"The timing of this strike is important to the public interest because navigation on the Great Lakes closes for 18 weeks beginning Dec. 1," they added.

Officials at NMU strike headquarters in Detroit said they had no knowledge of the reported Chicago developments.

They released a brief statement, however, assailing Duluth police for their part in a fracas with NMU pickets in the Minnesota city today.

A score of men were injured in a sharp, three-minute setto between 65 policemen and a group of NMU pickets at the ore docks of the Duluth, Missabe & Iron Range Railroad. The officers were armed but no shots were fired.

Seven other pickets were booked on disorderly charges as a result of the melee, which broke out when police went to the assistance of a driver whose car was moving through the picket line.

The president of the Lake Carriers, A. T. Wood, whose association operates 316 vessels on the lakes, said strike gains made by the NMU "have been completely offset by the increased rate at which Great Lakes seamen are remaining struck vessels."

While acknowledging one new walkout, Wood said five ships returned to service, thus reducing the association's total of strike-bound vessels from 46 to 42.

The union stood pat on its claim that 120 lakes' vessels are tied up.

NATIONAL GUARD
UNITS ASSIGNEDEscanaba Gets Company
Of Combat Engineers
With 136 Men

Lansing, Aug. 21 (AP)—First units of the post-war Michigan National Guard, comprising a total of 14,822 officers and men, were allocated today by Governor Kelly.

Accepting the locations proposed by Col. Owen J. Cleary, deputy chief of staff, and approved by the state military board, Kelly said that priority was being given to activation and organization of state headquarters, the 46th Division and Air Force units in compliance with war department policies.

He said several other units would be organized later bringing the state's total National Guard strength to 24,015 officers and men.

Under the new organization, Michigan has three infantry regiments instead of two, and a new air force unit.

Most of the strength of the 14,822 troops will be centered in seven areas. Detroit will have 5,547 men, Grand Rapids, 1,198, Flint, 1,083, Lansing, 816, Saginaw, 271, Jackson, 353 and Pontiac, 355.

Among the units allocated were: 107th Engineer Combat Battalion: Headquarters, Headquarters and Service Co., 107, Marquette; Co. A, Calumet and Houghton; 136 Co. B, Sault Ste. Marie, 136, and Co. C, Escanaba, 136.

President's Yacht
Has Rough Going
On Bermuda Cruise

With President Truman enroute to Bermuda, Aug. 21 (AP)—The presidential yacht Williamsburg pitched and rolled today over blue gulf stream waters carrying President Truman to a landing tomorrow in Bermuda.

The "moderate" seas splashed the forecastle of the Navy ship Weiss which trailed the Williamsburg and bounced both ships about considerably.

Most of the seasickness among the reporters and photographers in the Weiss had cleared up today. The president and his party took frequent "naps" yesterday but sleepiness was officially given as the reason.

Press secretary Charles C. Ross said this afternoon the Williamsburg will arrive at the naval base about noon tomorrow. He said he still didn't know how long a stop would be made.

The president, he said, spent a "quiet day," reading, napping or talking with those aboard his ship. He has not talked with Secretary of State Byrnes at Paris since yesterday afternoon.

TEAMSTERS USE
HALL FOR BONDUnionists Must Appear
For Hearing Sept. 9
In Extortion Case

Detroit, Aug. 21 (AP)—The AFL Teamsters put up their $30,000 union hall today as guaranty for the court appearance of indicted officers and agents.

The hall was accepted by Circuit Judge George B. Murphy as bond for 16 of 18 unionists who are charged with conspiracy to extort and violation of the state labor laws.

The defendants must appear for examination Sept. 9.

Bonds for 16 defendants total $17,000 and include $2,000 bail for Owen B. Brennan, president of the Food and Beverage Drivers' local. The 15 other bonds are for $1,000 each.

Separate bonds of $2,000 and $1,000 were furnished respectively by James Hoffa, local head of the teamsters, and Robert Holmes, president of the Detroit Teamsters' Temple Association, owners of the hall.

Bonds ranging from $1,000 to $2,000 also were filed by 32 persons named by the grand jury as co-conspirators but not as defendants.

The 50 union men were named by Judge Murphy, one-man grand jury, in indictments returned last week. The grand jury investigation resulted from the teamsters' efforts to organize independent grocery and meat merchants here last spring.

Blast Kills Eight
In Aero-Jet Plant
Near Los Angeles

Azusa, Calif., Aug. 21 (AP)—At least eight persons were killed and more than a score injured today as a terrific explosion of volatile fuels wrecked the Azusa plant of Aero-Jet Engineering corporation.

The blast, originating in a mixing plant, jarred the Los Angeles area, and was felt within a 30-mile radius.

The plant manufactures jet assisted takeoff (JATO) units for navy aircraft, powerful explosives designed to give heavy bombers and fast fighters additional power on takeoffs by rocket-like thrusts.

Because of the danger attached to manufacture of its products, Aero-Jet built its plant around several structures instead of into one building. Fire, spreading quickly after the explosion, caused considerable damage to the property.

Sheriff's officers said the eight dead were civilian employees and that there might be other victims in the wreckage. The fire was quelled within an hour. Equipment from neighboring cities being pressed into immediate service.

Lansing Hitchhiker
Holds Up Motorist

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 21 (AP)—State police tonight sought a hitchhiker, attired in a soldier's uniform, who reportedly held up a motorist near here and fled with $62.

J. J. Ellis of Martinsville, Ind., told officials that he picked the man up near Durand. As they were about 12 miles out of Lansing, the passenger pulled a gun and forced Ellis to hand over his wallet.

The robber then jumped out and ran to a nearby car, containing three other men and bearing Illinois plates. They drove away speedily while Ellis sped to state police headquarters here to report the holdup.

TITO IS GIVEN
48 HOURS TO
FREE AIRMENWASHINGTON NOTE
SHARPEST SINCE
PEARL HARBOR

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—In an angry ultimatum, the United States tonight gave Yugoslavia 48 hours to free imprisoned American airmen and to permit this nation's diplomatic representatives to investigate the disappearance of an army plane near Marshal Tito's summer home.

A bitterly caustic note—the sharpest issued by this government since Pearl Harbor—accused Yugoslavia of a "plain violation" of international law and the United Nations' charter and said that the Yugoslav explanation was "wholly inadequate" and shocking to the people of the United States.

"If, within that time (48 hours) these demands are not complied with, the United States government will call the security council of the United Nations to meet promptly and to take the appropriate action," the note said.

Force Not Justified

It was handed to Sergije Makiedo, Yugoslav's charge d'affaires in Washington by undersecretary of state Acheson shortly after 5 P. M. (C. D. T.)—a few hours after a transatlantic telephone conversation between Acheson and Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris.

TOPS UNRRA LIST

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—UNRRA figures showed today that Yugoslavia has been the chief recipient of aid from the international organization whose finances are borne chiefly by the United States.

In response to questions, a spokesman for UNRRA said that the value in supplies delivered to the Yugoslavia through June 30 of this year amounted to $315,778,000 as compared to $313,145,000 for Poland and $280,675,000 for Greece.

The whole program, as now contemplated, would put China in the lead, with total aid amounting to $535,000,000. Yugoslavia would be third, after Poland, with $429,500,000.

Stars And Rams
Take First Romps
At Soldier Field

BY JERRY LISK
Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—The College All-Stars, riddled in star-patched togas, and the traveling Los Angeles Rams today at the feel of huge Soldier Field where they will tangle before an expected 95,000 early birds of the 1946 football season Friday night.

The Rams, champions of the National Football League and a light favorite to produce the eighth professional win in the 13-year-old series, spent directly on the field for a practice romo after a 47-hour train ride from their California training base.

Bo McMillin's Collegians, donning their fancy game duds, were scheduled to cavort in a dress rehearsal tonight under a glaring 100,000 watt light system installed this year by the Chicago park district at a $75,000 cost.

Tomorrow, the All-Stars will polish off with a matinee drill, while the Rams will take their practice turn under the arc lights.

The All-Stars previously had practiced at Northwestern's Deuce Stadium in Evanston where McMillin, perhaps for strategic reasons, plainly indicated he was not overly impressed with the quad he will send after the fourth collegiate, and his own second, triumph of the series. Two of the classics ended in deadlocks.

Sticking strictly to coaching script, McMillin insisted: "The All-Stars haven't looked good at all. I don't know what to expect Friday night, but I'm depending upon my boys to get into a fighting mood against the pros. That's our chance."

General Attacks
La Guardia At U.S. Army

By WES GALLAGHER
Berlin, Aug. 21 (AP)—Gen. Joseph P. McNarney, U. S. commander in Europe, caustically attacked JNRR director-general F. H. La Guardia today for "baseless and incorrect" charges against the U. S. Army.

McNarney bluntly denied La Guardia's charges that the U. S. Army opposed UNRRA's aims in aid and repatriation of displaced persons, and asserted his headquarters had supported the program "in every way to ensure success."

He supported La Guardia's view that UNRRA was not being used as an "espionage umbrella" for Russian secret agents in the American zone, saying "we know of very few cases of agents of any type who operated under the cloak of UNRRA."

"Of these, only one has been positively identified as an NKVD (Russian police) agent," he said.

This agent, he added, was a woman who was being sent back to the Soviet zone today.

Meanwhile Meyer Cohen took over as acting UNRRA director of displaced persons activities, succeeding British Lt. Gen. Sir Frederick British.

Veterans' Training
Ceilings Too Low,
Committee Declares

Lansing, Aug. 21 (AP)—A new federal law placing a $200 ceiling on income under the on-the-job training program for veterans may discourage enrollment in the program, members of the state advisory committee said today.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, said committee members felt that although there should be some ceiling the $200 limit might be low.

The federal act permits unmarried veterans to receive $175 a month including subsistence from the Veterans Administration. Married veterans may receive $200 a month.

He said the new ruling may lower the number of persons enrolled in training for such vital skills jobs as brick laying and carpentry.

Homeless Veterans
End Tent Vigil On Court House Lawn

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Binghamton's band of homeless veterans, who declared Aug. 2 they would camp on the court house lawn until "something is done," prepared tonight to fold their tents in discouragement.

Walter Jeffrey, head of the group's veterans benefit organization, blamed the end of the three-week encampment on "diminishing interest on the part of veterans, poor weather and sickness."

"We had stayed here until Christmas if we had received the support of other veterans and the public," he declared.

Pickets Keep Smith
From Giving Talk
For America Firsts

Minneapolis, Aug. 21 (AP)—Nearly 300 pickets bearing banners tonight forced cancellation of a talk scheduled at two different Minneapolis halls by Gerald L. K. Smith, director of the America First Committee, after intervention by 50 policemen headed by their chief, and two secretaries of Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey.

Police reported doors were ripped from their hinges and chairs tossed at the Leamington Hotel ballroom where Smith had moved the meeting when the Hennepin County Republican Club had cancelled its rental of their hall, a few blocks away.

TITO IS GIVEN
FREE AIRMEN

Edvard Kardelj, whom he had summoned to his office.

Kardelj told a news conference that he believed the shooting down of two U. S. transport planes in Yugoslavia had been unintentional.

Then the American government formally laid down its "demands":

1. "That you immediately release the occupants of these planes now in your custody and that you insure their safe passage beyond the borders of Yugoslavia."

2. "The government of the United States also demands that its representatives be permitted to communicate with any of the occupants of the two planes who are still alive."

The note dealt with the action of Yugoslav fighters in forcing down an American army transport Aug. 9, in the course of which one passenger was injured, and the disappearance of a second plane a few days ago amid reports that it was seen descending in flames after cannon shots were heard.

"If within 48 hours from the receipt of this note by the Yugoslav government, these demands are complied with the United States government will determine its course in the light of the evidence then secured and the efforts of the Yugoslav government to right the wrong done," the note said.

"If, however, within that time these demands are not complied with, the United States government will call upon the security council of the United Nations to meet promptly and to take appropriate action."

Such a course would mark the first time this country had raised an issue on behalf of itself before the security council.

The deadline for the Yugoslav action, state department attaches said, will be 48 hours after receipt of the note in Belgrade.

If the issue goes to the security council, it would be sure to bring a full dress debate and a showdown which might provide a clear cut and grave test of the ability of the international agency to maintain peace.

WRECKAGE LOCATED

Belgrade, Aug. 21 (AP)—The wreckage of the American military transport plane which was shot down in flames by Yugoslav fighters north of Bled Monday lies approximately two miles from the Austrian border, it was learned tonight.

The wreckage was just inside Yugoslav territory.

"This dispatch did not speculate on whether the air attack which forced the American plane down occurred over Austrian or Yugoslav territory."

(Yugoslavia has based its reason for the attack on the contention that U. S. aircraft have repeatedly flown over Yugoslav territory despite the protests of Premier Marshal Tito's government).

It also has been learned that representatives of the U. S. graves registration commission have been granted permission to leave Belgrade and search the wreckage for the bodies of three American Air Force personnel believed to have been killed when the transport crashed to earth and exploded.

Survivors In Custody

U. S. authorities in Belgrade have received notification from the Yugoslav government that two members of the five-man crew parachuted to safety, thus indicating that both survivors now are in the custody of Yugoslav authorities.

U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson personally will confer tomorrow at Bled with Marshal Tito on the shooting down of unarmed American transport planes, an action which the Yugoslav premier strongly defended.

Tito, alleging repeated violations by planes of Yugoslav territory, accused "certain countries" of striving for "an imperialistic peace," and declared Yugoslavia did not want a "peace at any price" such as "is wanted by those who wish to achieve their imperialistic aims at the expense of peoples who have sacrificed for the common cause all they possibly could."

While Patterson and his staff prepared to fly to Tito's summer home at Bled, the U. S. embassy pressed the Yugoslav foreign office for permission to send graves registration representatives to the scene of the second plane crash to search for bodies in the wreckage.

The embassy also pressed for information concerning two crew members who parachuted from the blazing C-47 Monday in the vicinity of the Austrian-Yugoslav frontier, and for the release of seven American crewmen of the C-47 shot down August 9, who now are in their thirteenth day of internment in a Ljubljana hotel.

Three Believed Dead

The Yugoslav foreign ministry's note last night acknowledged the shooting down Monday of the transport which was on a routine flight from Vienna to Udine, said there probably were casualties.

The Yugoslav army began an immediate search for the two men who parachuted from the plane, and there was reason to believe they had been found, but like the American nationals in the August 9 incident, were being held incommunicado.

Little hope could be held out, in the light of the foreign ministry statement, that the other three members of the crew could have survived the crash. Only five were aboard the ship—three officers and two enlisted men.

(In Berlin Gen. Joseph P. McNarney, U. S. European theater commander, announced that U. S. air transport flights between Vienna and Udine were cancelled until further notice and that he would confer with Gen. W. D. Morgan, Allied Mediterranean commander, on measures to protect Allied planes.)

(In Paris Secretary of State

Byrnes had a frank talk on all aspects of the Yugoslav situation with Yugoslav Vice-Premier Edvard Kardelj, an American peace conference delegation spokesman said.)

Tito, in his speech to workers at the Jesenice Steel Works near Bled yesterday, said he witnessed the downing of one of the American planes, but denied previous American protestations that it had been lost in the clouds.

American accounts of the August 9 incident had said the Yugoslav fighters gave no signal to land and fired upon the plane when it already had landed. Tito characterized these statements as "slanders" against his army, adding that "all this is not true, as I have been myself a witness to this event."

Bodies Of Calcutta

Riot Victims Picked

Up By Truckloads

Bombay, Aug. 21 (AP)—Hindu and Moslem disturbances were reported today from the provinces of Bengal, Bihar and Assam, in which four persons were killed and a score or more injured.

In Calcutta thousands of weary refugees plodded out of this strife-scoured metropolis toward the country today as disposal squads continued the ghastly task of collecting bodies of riot victims by the truckload.

Calcutta experienced its first day of halved rations, decreed to meet a food emergency caused by four days of bloody rioting between Moslems and Hindus, which ended Monday.

Counting of the dead, believed to total 3,000, will be difficult for Calcutta authorities. It was feared many of the victims had been pushed into sewers, and removal of the bodies will be a major task.

Soft Coal Miners

Accept Invitation

To Talk Contract

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Both the soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers have accepted a government invitation for a meeting September 10 to discuss negotiations for a contract.

Admiral Ben Moreell, coal mines administrator, who extended the invitation, said Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the operators negotiating committee, and John O'Leary, acting president of the United Mine Workers, have replied that they will attend the meeting.

The government wants to return the soft coal mines to their owners but cannot take this step until the operators and the union agree to a new contract to replace the one between the government and the union.

Reno Woman Freed
In Pappy Boyington
Grand Theft Charge

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Lucy Malcolmson, 35, was freed here today of grand theft charges brought against her by Lt. Col. Gregory "Pappy" Boyington, 32, who admittedly killed her last January to marry another woman.

Municipal Judge Eugene Daney, Jr., held at the abrupt end of a preliminary hearing that "there isn't probable cause to hold the defendant guilty of this charge or any of the charges."

Boyington, Marine Corps air hero of the Pacific war and long Japanese imprisonment, walked from the courtroom with his blonde wife, the former Frances Baker, 32.

Neither glanced at the auburn-haired Mrs. Malcolmson, where she sat by her attorney, her eyes filled with tears of relief.

She said she would return to Reno to continue operating a rooming house.

Mrs. Malcolmson testified earlier in the day that "the colonel drinks and chases women."

Cigarette Lighter
Sets Off Explosion
In Home, Four Dead

Tribbey, Okla., Aug. 21 (AP)—Four persons were killed tonight in a butane explosion which occurred, a sheriff's deputy said, when a lighted cigarette lighter ignited gas accumulated in a Tribbey home.

Mrs. Troy West, 35, and her one-month old son, Carey Lynn, were killed instantly, while Troy West, 40, and Janice Rice, 14, a neighbor, died in a hospital a few hours after the blast.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Hart said the explosion occurred when Kenneth Tate, 19, who was helping Mr. and Mrs. William Parker move into the other side of the West's duplex, lit a cigarette lighter, igniting gas which had accumulated while a stove was being installed.

John Megehee, engineer at a pump station, said he saw the house, an eight-room duplex, blown about 100 feet in the air.

Planners Discuss

Peninsula Future

At Iron Mountain

Lansing, Aug. 21 (AP)—Recommendations for the development of the Upper Peninsula's economy will be discussed August 29 at Iron Mountain when the State Planning Commission holds its annual meeting with the Upper Peninsula technical and industrial advisory committee.

The commission also will hear suggestions from Ivan Brown of Iron Mountain, president of the Upper Peninsula rehabilitation council recently organized by CIO and AFL unions, and Herbert Larson of Crystal Falls, engineer-director of the Iron county road commission.

candid if I did not express disappointment that the board was unable to find a basis for reconstruction of dairy products.

"However, the board had no alternative, since it did not find that prices on these products had risen unreasonably."

Livestock Goes Up

Porter was asked whether OPA plans to keep a sharp eye on dairy product prices.

"Indeed we do," he replied. "I expect we will be in trouble on the dairy situation this fall."

Here are dates when price ceilings will be restored on fats and oils:

Tank oils, crude and refined, August 22; consumer products, such as salad oils and mayonnaise, at manufacturing levels, August 30; non-manufacturing distributors of end products, September 4.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told a news conference that prospective black marketeers "will find the OPA and other government agencies making a renewed and stronger effort to combat black markets."

The American meat institute raised the prospect of black markets as soon as the decontrol board's decision was announced. But Ralph Helstein, president of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers, declared that such talk "is strictly phoney."

Cattle and hog receipts dropped sharply at the livestock markets, and prices for top grade cattle in Chicago leaped to a new record. Grain prices, at the same time, declined.

Anderson, who is given greater authority than Porter on agricultural price ceilings under the new act, announced that on Sept. 1 he will issue a list of farm commodities to be exempt from control because they are not scarce. He declined to indicate in advance what they may be.

Barred At Miami:

Cross Sea In Sloop

Miami, Fla., Aug. 21 (AP)—Eighteen refugees from Estonia sailed into Miami's harbor today after crossing the Atlantic in a 38-foot sloop only to be refused permission to land.

Eleven men, six wives and a pretty, yellow-haired 5-year-old girl had been at sea for 30 days on the last leg of their voyage, from Spanish Madeira.

The started from Sweden May 30, made one stop in England, and have been at sea almost continuously for two and a half months.

KIWANIS ENDS DISTRICT MEET

Milwaukee Man Elected District Governor Of Service Club

Earl M. Wanecek of Milwaukee today was elected Kiwanis district governor at the 32nd annual Upper Michigan-Wisconsin district convention in Marinette.

This afternoon the annual golf tournament for the Moss trophy was being played at Riverside and Little River links, officially closing the convention.

Other district officers elected to take office in January are Frank J. Horak of Oconto, re-elected treasurer, and the following lieutenant governors: Rev. Paul Kehle, Monroe; Dr. John Nickell, Oconomowoc; Clyde Bartman, West Allis; H. H. Luth, Oconto Falls; George L. Best Iron Mountain; Francis Chlosser, Chilton; Fred K. Bollman, Chippewa Falls; Ray E. Wood, Fond du Lac; John Hostig, Mauston; Lorin Smith, Sparta; Witt Rork, Owen; and Orle Baker, Boscobel.

An attendance trophy, donated by Paul F. Neverman, Marinette, past district governor, was awarded to Racine.

At the noon luncheon Orville R. Maxfield of Fort Wayne, Ind., an international trustee, was the speaker.

Clifton Utley, nationally known newscaster, spoke last night before 800 at Marinette High school auditorium. He said it will take time to get along with Russia but ultimately this country will be on good terms with them. He urged the nation to back up Byrnes and to make it clear that the U. S. will not take anything from Russia.

Escanaba Men to Get Court Trial In Game Law Case

Three Escanaba men charged with resisting arrest and assaulting conservation officers in a deer killing case heard by Justice E. Bjork at Marquette county circuit court for trial at the September term. The three are at liberty under $100 bond each.

They are Robert and Joe Coplan and Ray Dube, who were arrested the night of Aug. 11 three miles north of the village of Arnold by a party of conservation officers on patrol. Before the men were taken into custody a battle ensued, according to the officers, and a charge of resisting arrest and assaulting the officers was lodged against the men.

At the preliminary hearing in Justice Bjork's court Monday the three were bound over to circuit court. They had originally pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Newhall Boy Killed, Niece Badly Injured In Bike-Car Collision

Glen Porath, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustaf Porath, of Newhall, was fatally injured and his eight-year-old niece, Roberta Porath, with whom he was riding on his bicycle, received a broken leg and severe facial cuts, about 7:15 o'clock last evening as they crossed the road in front of the farmhouse of their grandparents, near Tesch and were struck by an automobile driven by Paul DeMille, 516 South 16th street.

Stephenson Girl Going to Alaska

Menominee—Miss Rose Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Potter of Stephenson, who graduated in May, 1946 from the University of Alaska at Fairbanks, will teach home economics and physical education in the high school at Palmer Alaska. Miss Potter is the first Menominee county young woman to graduate from the Alaska university.

Miss Potter, who traveled the 3,600 miles from Fairbanks to Minneapolis where she was met by her parents enroute home for the summer vacation, will leave Sunday for Minneapolis to board an airliner for the return trip. Family members will accompany her to that city. Miss Potter will leave Minneapolis at 8 p. m. Sunday and expects to arrive in Fairbanks at 7:30 a. m. Tuesday, August 27, after spending a day in Edmonton, Alberta. The Palmer school will open for the fall term on September 3.

Graduating from Stephenson High school in 1940, Miss Potter studied for three years at Michigan State College, East Lansing, and entered the Alaska university in the fall of 1945 for her senior year of study.

LIONS LEADERS PLAN MEETING

Cabinet Members Will Convene Aug. 24 In Marquette

Members of the cabinet of 10th District, Lions International, will meet in Marquette Saturday, August 24, for their first session since the recent convention here, George E. Bishop, district governor, announced.

The 10th District, which includes the entire Upper Peninsula, has been divided into three regions, two of which are in turn sub-divided into zones and a deputy district governor and zone chairman appointed for each. Those deputy governors and zone chairmen, together with the cabinet secretary and past district governor, comprise the governor's cabinet for administration of Lions affairs in the Peninsula.

Ralph M. Sheenan, Marquette, is cabinet secretary, and Gervase T. Murphy, Calumet, is past governor. The remainder of the cabinet, appointed by Bishop, includes:

Region I—W. F. Weber, Sault Ste. Marie, deputy district governor; Reginald Wallace, Rudyard, zone chairman.

Region II—George Graham, Lake Linden, deputy district governor; Richard Carnes, Houghton, chairman of Zone I, and George Pearson, Bessemer, chairman of Zone II.

Region III—Bruce Brackett, Escanaba, deputy district governor; Richard Lucky, Stephenson, chairman of Zone I, and Everett Cookson, Manistique, chairman of Zone II.

Here's how the 10th Lions District is divided geographically: Region I—Zone I—Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry, Brimley, Rudyard, Pickford, DeTour, St. Ignace and Mackinac Island.

Region II—Zone I—Ahmeek, Calumet, Lake Linden, Hancock, Houghton, Chassell, Baraga and L'Anse; Zone II—Ontonagon, Bessemer and Iron River.

Region III—Zone I—Rapid River, Gladstone, Escanaba, Bark River, Powers, Stephenson and Louis.

Glen Louis Porath was born in Escanaba on Jan. 6, 1936.

He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Hyde. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustaf A. Porath of Newhall and the following eight brothers and one sister survive: Phyllis, Earl at home; Robert of Schaffer; Leslie and Donald, Escanaba; Jack of Danforth; Lawrence, Ford River; Pfc. William, USMC, Panama; Pfc. James, Yokohama, Japan.

The body is being prepared for burial at the Anderson funeral home. Funeral arrangements will be completed today.

New Equipment to Speed Up Work of Park Maintenance

New equipment recently acquired by the city which will speed up the work of maintaining the grass in Ludington park and on other public property include two lawn sweepers and a power mower.

The lawn sweepers are operated manually and take up bits of paper, twigs, acorns and other bits of debris which are difficult to rake up. Use of the new power mower will permit park attendants to cut the grass in about half the length of time formerly required.

The mower cost $112 and the sweepers $44 each, City Forester Bob Clayton said.

Devotions Close at Trenary Church

Trenary, Mich. — The Solemn closing of the Thirteenth Hours Devotion took place Sunday, Aug. 18 at St. Rita's church of Trenary. This Eucharistic Devotion began with a High Mass at 8 o'clock and ended with the Solemn Closing Service in the evening. The following priests were in attendance: Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Zyrd, V. G. of the Marquette Diocese, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Mathias Jadoc, Marquette; Very Rev. George LaForest, Escanaba, Rev. Martin Melican, Rev. Clement LaPin, Rev. Charles Szynula, Escanaba; Rev. Ralph Sterbenz, Garden; Rev. Ovid La Mothe, Munising; Rev. William Oremus, Rev. Emil Byer, Rev. Joseph Dunleavy, Marquette; Rev. Edward Michelich, Rev. Thomas J. Anderson, Rapid River.

The sermon of the evening was preached by Msgr. J. Zyrd.

You can add some excitement to many egg dishes by pepping them up with one of the "fine herbs" either alone or blended with another, or with chervil, chive, parsley, summer savory or celery. And, when other fresh herbs are not available, parsley, onion juice and celery tops can be used to give a robust flavor to an omelet.

Menominee: Zone II—Marquette, Munising, Rock, Manistique and Gladstone.

Briefly Told

Building Permits—Latest building permits approved by the city include the following: construct driveway and concrete floor base, $150, Aibin Nelson, 1013 Lake Shore Drive; construct garage to be used as a temporary dwelling, $1,000, Earl Pierson, 1114 Sheridan Road; construct 6x11 foot addition to dwelling, $500, S. made with other metals and with plastics. They have found an important place in our industrial picture. But we still need steel more than ever for countless uses.

During the steel strike, America's industrial machine moved inexorably to a virtual stop. The effects of the strike are still being felt, in the form of shortages of steel products. For this is the vast industry, basic in every sense of the word, on which all other industry depends.

A Plea by Italy

THE American people will sympathize with Italy's efforts to salvage the best peace terms possible from the Allied Nations and particularly with Italy's hope of escaping economic control of Northeast Italy by the Soviet-dominated Yugoslav government.

The Italian people were unhappy when the fascist dictator, Mussolini, thrust them into war on the side of the axis powers. They fought listlessly and when the opportunity presented itself, Italy turned against the fascists and actively joined the war on the side of the Allied Nations.

Italy cannot escape responsibility for the "stab in the back" directed at France in 1940 and in the fact that Italy's position in the war with the axis powers considerably lengthened the war itself, necessitating a costly fight in North Africa.

However, Italy is being deprived of her stolen empire in Africa, which is just and proper, and she will be required to pay reparations.

She does deserve some recognition for her war record against Germany, however, and peace terms that will permit Italy to avoid control of a portion of her territory by the hostile, Communist government of Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

CORRECTING AN OVERSIGHT (Grand Rapids Press)

Gov. Kelly's somewhat tardy decision to dissolve Michigan's office of civilian defense is a little reminiscent of congress' discovery a couple of months ago that a World War I agency, the United States Spruce Corporation, still existed, although its job was done when the war ended. The "oversight" was costing taxpayers $15,000 a year in salaries and other expenses. The state OCD office, with a skeleton staff of five persons, currently is costing Michigan taxpayers something in excess of $16,000 annually.

No justification can be found, of course, for continuing the state OCD. The federal OCD went out of business months ago and the state office has had no important functions to perform since, roughly, V-E day. The fact that the Lansing office has hung on for a year after the war's end is symptomatic of bureaucracy, at whatever level of government it may exist. It's easy enough to set up new boards, commissions or bureaus, but they die hard. Provision probably ought to be made in every governmental setup for a periodic and systematic weeding out of such agencies.

The state OCD admittedly did an excellent job in the war years, though fortunately no need arose to set its protective services in motion. Its passing next month, however, will go unlamented; instead, there will be a sigh of relief that it didn't become as securely entrenched as the late United States spruce corporation.

YOUNGSTERS WHO DRIVE CARS (Milwaukee Journal)

Milwaukee police are rightly demanding a "crackdown" on youthful drivers of automobiles who violate the traffic code. They properly ask the juvenile court to do something effective to convince young drivers that they can be allowed behind a wheel only if they drive carefully.

In the first six months of 1946, 170 youths between 16 and 18 were arrested by the police for traffic violations. In most of these cases, the youngster was put on probation and his license suspended for a month or two. There have been many repeaters under this policy. Clearly a more vigorous policy is called for.

License to drive an automobile is a privilege. When the license is granted, it is on the supposition that the applicant will exercise mature responsibility. In the case of a youngster, that supposition must always be tentative. The first time the youngster demonstrates clearly that he lacks the required sense of responsibility, his license should be suspended for a full year.

An automobile is too dangerous a machine to be permitted in the hands of a person who has revealed an indifference to law and public safety and who cannot be held personally responsible for a possible serious accident because of his age.

Isn't it funny how an old cat always fits a scarecrow to a T?

Most people are bent on taking exercise because that's one of the most popular ways of taking them.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The radio talk made by Democratic National Chairman Robert Hannegan the other evening had greater significance than was generally attached to it. In a sense, this speech was meant to set the tone not merely for the congressional campaign but for the contest in '48 as well.

Childs

Hannegan is looking a long way ahead. He talks of getting out of what is in many ways the irksome job of chairman. But even if he were to leave, which is improbable, he believes his successor would be compelled by the logic of events to follow the line more or less clearly defined in his radio talk.

That line is to depict President Truman as the rightful heir of Franklin D. Roosevelt. In his talk, Hannegan paid resounding tribute to the memory of Roosevelt who, he said, led the nation out of economic despair and into a new day. Then he went on to tell how Truman was carrying on where his predecessor left off.

—DEMOCRATS OPPOSED TRUMAN— It was a shrewd political speech. Coupled with praise for Truman as Roosevelt's heir, was a thundering attack on "Republican wreckers" in Congress whom Hannegan blamed for sabotaging the Roosevelt-Truman program.

"In the belief that Roosevelt's death has brought them their opportunity," Hannegan said, "The economic wreckers in the Republican party are using this election as the strategic moment to strike. Progressive America is standing today with its back to the wall."

"We of the Democratic party are going to hold the line against that attack. We are going to hold the line against reaction. That will be our slogan in this campaign." The Democratic chairman was, of course, on very thin ice in attacking the Republican record in Congress, since a considerable number of Democrats joined with the GOP to kill Truman's reform measures. But Hannegan skirted rapidly over that point by declaring it did not excuse Republicans to say they had been joined by some Democrats.

If Hannegan's counsel prevails—and he will not stay on if it is rejected—the Roosevelt-Truman link will be emphasized more and more as the contest of 1948 draws near. One of the things that impressed Hannegan most on his recent trip around the world was how, at every stop, the name of Roosevelt came into the conversation, no matter what the rank or station of the individual.

Invocation of the Roosevelt appeal will not be confined to words. An effort will be made to bring into the Truman administration prominent figures identified with Roosevelt and the New Deal.

One of the first of these, according to present plans, is to be Frances Perkins, who served as secretary of labor from March of 1933 until the death of Roosevelt. The President admires Miss Perkins and wants to find a post of sufficient importance and prestige to persuade her to return to government. For a time, the vacancy on the civil service commission was considered.

—PARTY INHERITS HANDICAPS—

A party long in power, as Hannegan is constantly discovering, has many heritages, both good and bad. In New York State, for example, the Democrats seem certain to select Sen. James Mead to run for the governorship, and former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for the senate.

Ignoring the other qualifications of these two men, they are not the most effective campaigners. Hannegan preferred headline-making Fiorello La Guardia for the senate race. In view, however, of past connections and past commitments, he had no choice.

Another handicap working against the professional who would like to do a smooth, managerial job is the predilection of the boys in the back room for the cautious and the safe. What is happening in Connecticut points this up.

Chester Bowles, who resigned as economic stabilizer in June, would like to be the Democratic candidate for governor. He could have the senatorial nomination, but he doesn't want it. The machine in Connecticut wants someone safe and sound in the state house, where patronage centers. As of this writing, it looks as though Bowles would bow out of politics.

While he realizes the handicaps his party is under, Hannegan is not downcast about the election this fall. One thing he's counting on is Republican overconfidence. With the GOP serenely convinced they are certain to return to power, Hannegan is working hard with a generous war chest and a staff that will concentrate on grass-roots action.

Selma. You're my last resort.

Answer: You have a very pretty name, in more ways than one, and it is surprising that Selma is not listed by our dictionaries. It is said to be a name of Celtic origin. The name Selma means "fair; attractive."

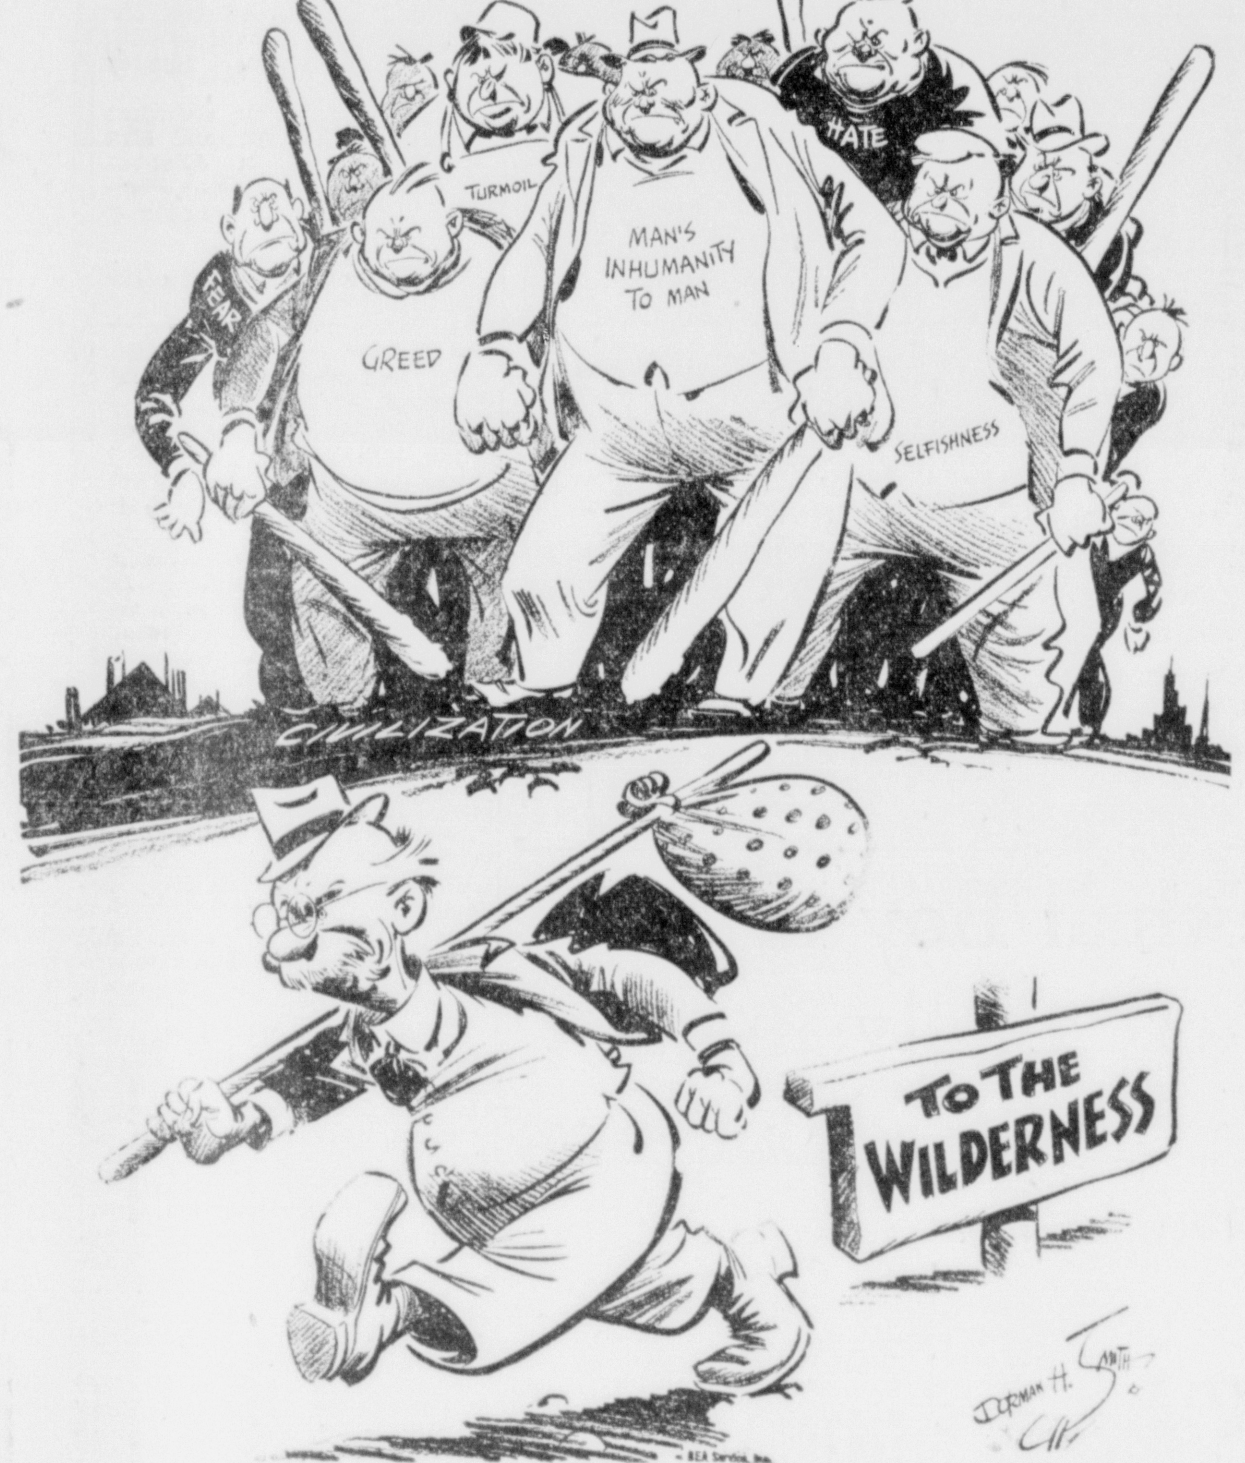

It is interesting to note that the first American town to bear the name is in Alabama.

The town was laid out and incorporated in 1820 by William Rufus King (he was vice-president of the United States at the time of his death in 1853). King was a great admirer of the poems of Ossian, a mythical Celtic bard.

One of Ossian's legendary works is called "Songs of Selma." It is a rhapsody on the loveliness and divine fairness of the gentle Selma. King gave her name to his new town, thus creating one of the most melodious place names in the United States—Selma, Alabama.

Have You, Too, Felt the Urge?

Good Morning! —By The Bugler

SIGN OF THE TIMES—A group of Escanaba youngsters, rounding up their accumulative summer energies for one last fling before school opens, sponsored, organized and presented a backyard circus the other day.

Dunathan

The event was entirely successful, in fact it exceeded their hopes from the monetary standpoint. The kids in the neighborhood seemed to have plenty of cash and a willingness to spend it. Some of the reported practices of the amateur circus operators sounded like a commentary on business methods of grownups, complete with increased prices for items on which shortages exist.

"We were selling the popcorn for a penny, and it went so fast we raised the price to two cents with a limit of not more than two sacks to a customer," said one of the circus promoters, proudly displaying her share of cash.

GETTING CLOSER—As summer wanes and the fall hunting season approaches there starts the usual speculation on the number of hunters who will be accidentally killed. Since the season on squirrel is already under way in Indiana, the following accident was to be expected.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Pfaff of Logansport went fishing on the Wabash river one afternoon, wearing a crownless hat. A squirrel hunter, Carl W. Coppemoll, saw the crown of Mrs. Pfaff's head through the foliage along the shore and decided he was looking at a turtle on the river bank. Now Carl had not gone hunting turtle, but he decided to take a shot anyway.

Fatal services for Mrs. Pfaff were largely attended.

THE ITCHY FINGER—Every season there are hunting accidents which seem almost unexplainable after they happen.

Over in Chippewa county last year a man was shot and killed because he looked like a beaver—which is almost as far-fetched as Mrs. Pfaff's resemblance to a turtle. And no matter how carefully you look, it will be impossible for you to say that Joe Donakes or Bill Piggie are built on the general lines of a buck deer. But every year quite a few men like Donakes and Piggie are shot because someone mistook them for deer.

This year probably more than any year in the past a lot of men will be in the woods with itchy trigger fingers. Training which encourages a man to shoot first and ask questions afterward is not conducive to safety during hunting season. With travel restrictions off the number of hunters will increase, which will also up the percentage of hazard.

EXHIBITION BIRLER—At Petoskey the end of this week Billy Girard, long time national birling champion of Gladstone, will meet Harry Vizona of Afton in a demonstration of log rolling at the Emmet County Sportsmen's Show. The show has been publicized as the highlight of the Northern Michigan resort season—much as the Gladstone Rodeo highlights the summer season in the Upper Peninsula.

IN WISCONSIN, TOO—Victor Nelson of Escanaba reported the other day that Wisconsin as well as the Upper Peninsula is having its fill of tourists this season. Vic and a party of Escanaba folks know from personal experience on a recent trip to Sturgeon Bay.

Early in the evening they began looking for a place to spend the night starting near Green Bay. They found every place filled, continued driving toward Sturgeon Bay, stopping all along the way. It was the same story. No vacancies. Arriving at Sturgeon Bay they looked around for a place to stop overnight and then began the long drive homeward—finally found overnight accommodations at Oconto, which is below Marinette a short distance. It was 3 o'clock in the morning.

BAT BITES BAIT—Richard Gearhart of Marquette, educational representative for the conservation department in the Upper Peninsula, reports that a camper at Wells State Park near Cedar River caught an unusual specimen while fishing there.

"The man was casting just after dusk, hoping to get a bass. Imagine his surprise when he reeled in after a strike—to find that a bat had taken his bait, thinking it was an insect. His efforts were rewarded, however, for after a few more casts he landed a three and one-half pound bass."

Q. My wife is in England and has a five-month old baby. Is there a policy that requires infants to be six months old before they may travel from overseas under the Army's "war brides program?"

A. Yes, infants must be at least six months of age.

Q. Please explain why my recently drafted son means when he states that he is depositing money in the "Soldier's Deposit Fund."

A. An enlisted man may deposit with his commanding officer any amount over $5 and it bears 4 percent interest. This money may be withdrawn in cases of emergency and must be withdrawn at time of discharge.

Q. Under what conditions is the Purple Heart awarded?

A. It is awarded to members of the armed forces who are injured or wounded in line of duty against an enemy of the United States to the extent that treatment by a medical officer is required.

Q. Does Italy produce much wheat in normal times?

A. Normally it is one of the principal wheat-growing nations, the third largest producer in Europe, with a crop about one-third that of the United States.

Q. I came to the United States as a visitor in 1920 and never returned to my native land. I had a passport but now I am told that I must get a record of registry, which costs eighteen dollars, before I can become a citizen. Is that true?

A. Yes. Your admission as a visitor in 1920 did not constitute legal entry for permanent residence. After you get a record of registry you can proceed to become a naturalized citizen.

Q. On May 30, 1916, President Wilson issued a proclamation designating June 14 to be observed as what anniversary?

A. Flag Day. The adoption in 1777 of the Stars and Stripes.

Q. Into how many periods is the English language usually divided?

A. Three. Old English, Middle English and Modern English.

Post. There are too many commonplace and unlovely lake-names, a condition which is gradually being corrected. What would you think if Lake Superior were called Lake Mud? Yet at one time Green Bay was named Bay des Puants by the French—which means Bay of the Stinkards or Place of the Stinking Water. No more revolting place name has ever been placed on a map.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—There is reason to believe that at the end of the war, Soviet Russia looked forward to a virtual alliance with the United States. The world's two greatest powers, the Russians felt, had no conflicting interests, could work together. Great Britain, the Russians figured, did not count. She was out of date, wiped up, finished.

Pearson

Unfortunately, however, we have veered so far in the other direction that foreign diplomats generally consider us not only an ally of Great Britain but owned body and soul by the charming gentlemen in the British foreign office.

This not only snarls up our relations with Russia, but lessens our effectiveness with other members of the United Nations. For it is by playing our cards straight across the United Nations board, with absolutely no big power alliances that we can maintain the world leadership which is ours for the asking.

Ever since Britain and Russia combined to stop Napoleon in 1815, their armies and navies have been looking down the muzzles of each others guns. For 100 years they have been the two most powerful, most suspicious, most opposite rivals in all Europe. And today England, weak, old, and fighting for survival, figures that her only salvation is playing off the USA against the USSR.

—ATLANTIC CHARTER FLOUTED—

Thus at a time when the Allies were pledged to the principles of the Atlantic charter and world cooperation, Britain has gone back to the outmoded, trouble-breeding game of power politics. And she has played her cards so skillfully that she has just about eched the USA into being the No. 1 enemy of the USSR.

One trouble with the British is that our bond of sympathy with them is so close that they know they can take advantage of us. Like an old man with a weakness for going on benders, the British know that when they get into trouble, their indulgent son will always bail them out.

Palestine is a case in point. The organization which mandated Palestine to the British—The League of Nations—is now nonexistent. The British have absolutely no legal rights in Palestine other than the power of armed force. And if they had any regard whatsoever for American friendship, which they so badly need, long ago they would have turned Palestine back to the United Nations—where it belongs.

—BRITISH UNDERCUT USA—

In an earlier column, this writer proposed that the United States adopt a definite, categorical policy of not appeasing Russia. It was argued that no country takes the first step toward war if it knows it will have to suffer a major retaliatory war. It was pointed out that Hitler never would have invaded Austria and the Ruhr if he hadn't shrewdly banked on Anglo-French dissension and appeasement.

If we are to follow a non-appeasement policy toward Russia, if we are to demand that she work through the United Nations; if we are to crack down on the first belligerent move she makes outside the United Nations, then Great Britain, judging by past performances, is our worst ally.

In 1932, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, realizing that Japan had started on major Asiatic conquest, did his best to enlist British cooperation in stopping the warlords before they got started. To this end he thought he had a British promise to deliver a strong identic note of protest to Japan.

But U. S. Ambassador Cameron Forbes discovered that after he delivered the American protest note, the British Ambassador paid two calls at the Japanese foreign office. One was to deliver the formal note of protest. The other was to tell the Japanese foreign minister informally that Great Britain had promised the United States to deliver a note, but nevertheless the British understood and sympathized with the Japanese position in Manchuria.

Again, in 1936, when Hitler walked into the Ruhr, it was the British who hung back, told the French that if they resisted Hitler, they would have to fight alone.

Again, during the Spanish civil war, it was the British foreign office which secretly played ball with Franco and sabotaged the Loyalist government, despite the fact that the world knew Hitler and Mussolini were staging a curtain-raiser to world war.

Again, prior to the Munich crisis over the Czech Sudetenland, Lord Runciman spent weeks in Czechoslovakia passing out secret word that Hitler could have the Sudetenland as far as he was concerned. So by the time the Big Four met in Munich, the surrender of the Sudetenland was a foregone conclusion—agreed to in advance by British appeasers.

Historians already are recording the probability that if we had checked the Spanish Fascist, if we had stopped Hitler in the Ruhr, if we had prevented his carving up Czechoslovakia, or even if we had blocked any one of these moves, the terrible tragedy of World War II would not have happened.

And if we are going to prevent World War II, the gentlemen of the British foreign office, with their silk-glove policy of appeasement, may prove our most dangerous, though charming allies.

INSTALL RADAR ON LAKE BOAT

Str. George F. Rand Of Cornelius Fleet Has Safety Device

Installation of Raytheon Manufacturing Company's Mariners Pathfinder radar aboard the Great Lakes self-unloader bulk freighter George F. Rand has been completed by company engineers. The ship, belonging to the Boland & Cornelius Fleet of Buffalo, was assigned to Raytheon for radar tests as part of an extensive program of research being conducted by the Lake Carriers Association.

The Lake Carriers Association is eager to determine the application of radar to navigational problems on the Great Lakes. In addition to severe storms, there is a total of 356 miles of restricted water-way that is very hazardous to navigate during low visibility. Continuing demonstrations have already been given this Association, indicating the essential part radar can play in navigational problems encountered on the Great Lakes.

No ordinary installation, the physical shape of the George F. Rand required a marked departure from the simple pilothouse installations, where maximum separation of antenna and transmitter-receiver is usually not more than 15 or 20 feet. The Mariners Pathfinder antenna was mounted on top of the self-unloader "A" frame with a wave-guide run of approximately 70 feet, including provisions for flexing or motion between the "A" frame and the forward superstructure.

Typical of the results obtained under all conditions, when proceeding west on Lake Erie, gas buoys were observed at average ranges of 4 to 5 miles. Ships were observed from 20 to 35 miles. A rainstorm, approximately 10 by 30 miles in area, was observed and plotted easily. While in the midst of the storm area, vessels were accurately observed through the long dimensions of the squall. Absolutely no targets were lost due to heavy rain. Approaching and entering the Detroit River channel buoys, piers, small craft, including even row boats at limited ranges were observed.

Unhatched Turtles Act Like Grownups

Washington—Unhatched young loggerhead turtles, taken out of their shells two weeks or more before normal time for emergence, show many of the same reactions that grown-up turtles have—swimming and crawling movements, snapping, righting themselves when overturned, and the persistent tendency to crawl seaward common to aquatic turtles.

These are among the results of a study of embryo turtle behavior made on the Florida coast by Dr. Karl U. Smith of the University of Wisconsin and Dr. Robert S. Daniel of the University of Missouri. They report on their work in the new issue of Science, published here.

The two scientists took 55 eggs of loggerhead turtles and opened them at various intervals during their incubation period of from 45 to 50 days.

First movement of the embryo turtle was observed on the twelfth day. The animals, at this stage still shell-less and lizard like in shape, merely bend their bodies when touched. They become able to move their legs independently about the eighteenth day, and give eyelid and mouth reactions at 22 days.

Pure-blooded Indians constitute more than 33 per cent of the entire population of Mexico today.

In Hollywood

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
Hollywood, (NEA).—A miracle can happen.

Charles Laughton is playing a Protestant minister in a new movie titled (appropriate, we think) "A Miracle Can Happen."

For a while there, we thought Bing Crosby, Gregory Peck, and a few others never would get their collars turned around.

"Have you seen a movie lately, or aren't you a Catholic?" had become a stock gag hereabouts.

Charles known to his intimates as either Cuddles, Chuck, or Sir Charles, slumped into a chair and sniffed just as Charles Laughton does on the screen, while his ponderous stomach hung like a cliff over his belt.

Charles is Enthused

He allowed that he had never before done such talking in front of a camera and that he was very happy indeed. He read David and Goliath in a five-minute marathon with the camera and never missed a word.

Not quite sure how audiences would take to his reading the Bible, Laughton said he had practiced quite a bit on soldiers during camp shows, as well as at a couple of Los Angeles churches.

One night a friend invited him

WED AT FAYETTE—Miss Joyce M. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Fayette, became the bride of Edward J. Chaffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chaffee, also of Fayette, at a recent ceremony which took place there at St. Peter's church. The couple will reside in San Diego, Calif., where the bridegroom is employed. (Ridings Photo).

over to do David and Goliath at his home.

"I was really on the spot that time," he chuckled. "There were 30 ministers sitting around. But they liked it."

"A Miracle Can Happen" is another episodic film, like "Tales of Manhattan," which Benedict Bogeaus is producing. Jimmy Stewart and Henry Fonda will appear in another sequence, other big stars in still another.

War-Delayed Epic

A story stymied by the war will go before the cameras next month at M-G-M, under the title "A Love Story."

"It's the finest thing I've ever had my hands on," director Clarence Brown told us.

It is the story of the German composer Robert Schumann and his wife Clara, one of the world's greatest feminine pianists.

Katie Hepburn will play Clara. The other roles have not yet been cast.

Clarence became interested in the story in 1939. It was written by Bernard S. Huber and Mario Silva. Then, because of its German background, characters, and music, it was shelved.

"The story," Clarence enthused, "has everything. It deals with a great romance. Robert Schumann slowly goes crazy and dies at the age of 44. You think Clara will marry Brahms, but she doesn't. She's true to her husband's memory and makes his music famous."

"I use all the Brahms and Liszt music, plus Schumann's compositions, including his famous 'Tranquillity.' And, besides all that, Katie has eight children, nursing them between concerts."

It sounded, we confessed, like enough for half a dozen movies.

Well Children Will Benefit By New Plan

By MARY E. PRIM
(P) Newsfeatures

Boston-Healer of sick youngsters from many lands for more than 75 years, Boston's Children's Hospital now plans to keep normal children in good health and bring them to maturity "as sound mentally and physically as is possible in the light of their natural endowments."

Describing a projected transformation into a $10,000,000 medical center for children—first of its kind in the world—hospital director Dr. Charles F. Branch, said today:

"The child health service clinic is one of the most important items in the new plan."

Designed to care for the healthy infant, child and adolescent, it will make available to every child in New England a periodic check-up "so that any tendency to disease may be recognized and treated promptly before it gains a foothold."

Affiliated with the Harvard School of Public Health, the Children's Medical Center has arranged a tie-in with base hospitals through New England and other connections with smaller hospitals in surrounding communities.

Through this all-embracing network will be initiated the broadest preventive medical program for children ever attempted in this country.

The only general children's hospital in the United States, the Children's Hospital, has been a lodestone for sick children everywhere since it was founded in 1869.

The first long-distance patients came in sailing ships from Scotland. Recently, in one ward were four babies who had arrived by plane from Ireland, India, Australia and Turkey. In the last six years, a total of 31,883 bed patients came for treatment from 37 states and 23 foreign countries.

The hospital's long list of scientific "firsts" includes the Drinker respirator, or "iron lung"; the first successful operation for congenital heart disease and the first and most complete unit for neurosurgery of children.

Since opening its polio clinic in 1916 with the introduction of moist heat, underwater therapy, and delicate orthopedic surgery to cure crippled limbs the Children's Hospital has treated more infantile patients than were cared for at Warm Springs, Georgia.

When the 12-story medical center is built, there will be a cancer clinic where new treatments developed through years of research are expected to cut down deaths.

And best of all in Dr. Branch's opinion, the former age limit of 12 years will be discarded.

"We will then be able to care for that truly forgotten individual who has been neglected by both general hospitals for adults and special hospitals for children—the adolescent."

Customer Will Count Someday

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

An Omaha auto-dealer recently got the shock of his life. Into his show-room walked a normal-looking man who confided that he knew a fellow who wanted to buy one of the dealer's new cars. For 10 dollars, he said, he'd give the dealer the prospective customer's name and address.

Maybe the fellow isn't crazy after all. Maybe he is just making it his mission in life to remind the world that there was once a time when a potential customer with money in his pocket was an important chap.

If so, he has picked out a full-time job for himself. There are plenty of folks who need reminding.

They are the ones who keep saying that business is "too good."

who are annoyed with the buying public for wanting hard-to-get goods, who stopped being polite and giving service during the war and have never bothered to resume worrying about "good will."

The buying public, perhaps, needs to be reminded of its own importance, too.

Buyers Are Brow-Beaten

Buyers have been so brow-beaten, so humbled by begging, so used to being pushed around, that they have lost their spunk. The buying public doesn't talk back of treatment without protest.

But things were different not so long ago—and they are going to be different again.

Some day the prospective customer is going to be a nice fellow to know—and that time may come sooner than we think.

Perhaps that's what the man who knew a fellow who wanted to buy a car was trying to get across.

Parental Neglect
Aids Sex Crimes

BY RUTH MILLETT

NEA Staff Writer

It is often hard to tell a teen-age girl anything—as many parents too well know.

But somehow parents, concerned for their daughters' safety, have got to make them see that in a time when every day's newspapers report brutal sex-crimes a girl's life may depend on her own caution and good judgment.

In the majority of crimes in which girls are victims, the girl involved did one of two foolish things.

She wandered into a lonely city park with her date, or parked with him along a country road, putting herself at the mercy of any hoodlum that happened along.

Or she "picked up" a date or accepted a ride with a stranger who turned out to be a criminal.

Police can't protect girls who take such chances. Their only protection is in realizing the danger in such situations—and only parents can make teen-age daughters see that danger.

It would help, too, if parents would be realistic enough to say to a daughter: "Bring your date home and the living room is yours. We won't walk in on you or invade your privacy. Any necking you want to do, do at home, rather than on some lonely road. And don't go out in a car with any young man you don't know well."

Parents Dodge the Truth

The trouble is, most parents are reluctant to admit to a daughter what they know from their own youth to be true: That necking is a part of dating. They would rather close their eyes to that fact when their own kids are growing up, and pretend that their own children are above "that sort of thing."

To keep up the pretense, the daughter has to do her courting in a parked car.

If parents would be more realistic—daughters would be less likely to take foolish chances.

It's a matter every father and mother who have a dating daughter should discuss frankly with her. Dodging the issue all too often only sends a girl out to a dangerous country-lane for her romancing.

Newest and loveliest of post-war fabrics is nylon taffeta, and the adaptable material is being fashioned into everything from bouffant evening frocks to sleek, swelte swim suits.

DELTA SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT 4

County Teachers Will Attend Meeting In City Sept. 3

Township and village schools in Delta county will open Wednesday, Sept. 4, following a meeting in Escanaba Sept. 3 at which the teachers will receive their register and other materials, it was announced yesterday by Hagle Quarnstrom, county school commissioner.

The meeting will be held in council chambers at city hall, and all county teachers except those from schools with superintendents will attend. At those schools the teachers receive their supplies through the superintendents.

There is expected to be few if any replacements in the teaching staff of county schools this year, the school commissioner believes. He has addressed inquiries on this matter to the secretaries of the school boards in the county. Quarnstrom explained that teachers in the county schools who were teaching under emergency or limited certificates have, through a summer school session in Escanaba, acquired sufficient credits to continue their certificates.

"Unlike several other counties where the teacher situation is serious, I believe Delta county will not have many replacements," Quarnstrom said. "So far as I know, now, all of the schools have a sufficient number of teachers for the coming year."

School teachers from the county have been invited by John Lemmer, Escanaba school superintendent, to attend any of the Teachers' Institute meetings in which they are interested. The Institute will be held in Escanaba Aug. 27 to 29, inclusive.

Van Meer

Van Meer, Mich.—A meeting was held at the Melstrand school Thursday, Aug. 12 at 8 p. m. by the parents of the school children from Cusino and Melstrand to discuss the problem of reopening the Melstrand school again.

The two room building has been closed since 1943 and the children have been transported by bus out here. They figured there are about forty-three children and a large part of them will be beginners.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Robinson are the parents of a son born Aug. 12 at their home in Melstrand.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Karr and daughters, Clarabelle and Helen of Melstrand were in Munising Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kemp Brown are re-decorating the cottage at the school which they will occupy during the school term.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoff of Detroit are visiting their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kroening of Melstrand.

Sam Simmons and granddaughter Margaret Smith were visitors at the Worthing home Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Sid Wright and children and Mrs. Dorothy Hamilton and son Jack, Cadillac, Mich. were here last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cole Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Sid Wright are former residents of Van Meer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Worthing and daughter Lillian and son Lyle were in Manistique Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howe and family.

Edward Howe has been moved from Fort Sam Houston, Texas to North Camp Polk La. and was given a rating of corporal about a month ago.

More Power Given To Salisbury, Md.

Salisbury, Md. (AP)—Salisbury firemen are displaying their latest piece of equipment, a mobile disaster light-and-power plant on a pickup chassis—and they think it has everything.

Rigged up by City Employee Oscar Grier, the plant includes a 2,000 watt, 110-volt gasoline generator, a 500-watt searchlight, two 500-watt floodlights, four hand lights with 800 feet of cable permitting their use in smoke-filled and darkened buildings—and a hot plate for the firemen to make coffee at the scene of a fire or disaster.

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and grown-ups may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it. After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a highly effective way to deal with them has been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug called gentian violet.

This special drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So if you suspect this ugly infection, ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P.W. and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

Library Adventure

—By Arnold Mulder

IT IS AN odd fact that great reputations of public men often go through stages, like the phases of the moon. There are periods when they are at the full, other periods when they are hardly more than a thin crescent, and there are even times when they go into eclipse.

I was once more struck by this fact while reading a fairly new book, "Tin Horns and Calico," by Henry Christman. It is not a novel, as the title might suggest, but a scholarly examination of the so-called "Anti-Rent War" that raged in the Hudson River valley in the forties of the nineteenth century. The reputation that comes out of it with its size greatly diminished in Alexan or Hamilton.

According to Christman, Hamilton was the villain of the piece. Not that he himself took part in the "war"—he had been dead for 40 years or so when trouble broke out into the open—but he helped set the stage for it and was basically responsible for it, again according to Christman.

Away back in the days of the Revolution when he was a young man Hamilton married into a very prominent Hudson river Dutch family. His wife was Betsy Schuyler, and her father was one of the Dutch "Patron" lords of the region. He and his kind represented property and privilege; their endeavor was to put the government into their vest pocket and make it serve their own class interests. As one of the tribe by marriage it was natural that Hamilton, should adopt their point of view.

At any rate they employed him to fix things in such a way that the poor of the region would forever remain poor and the rich would always stay rich. He drew up tenant contracts for the great landed families that condemned the farmers who actually worked the land to a life of virtual slavery, and their sons and grandsons after them. In the forties of the next century, after Hamilton had been dead four decades, they finally revolted, repudiated the vicious Hamiltonian contract partly by force partly through legislation, and converted the Hudson Valley from an oligarchy into a part of the American republic.

The story is worth reading for its own sake, but the incidental whittling down of the Hamilton reputation is a detail that deserves attention. For Hamilton has been held up as a kind of American economic god. Through his authorship of some of the Federalist papers he won the worship of most of those who have for more than a century and a half worshiped the Constitution of the United States. Deservedly so, for he had much to do with the passage of the constitution.

Throughout the nineteenth century his reputation was very great and in Republican states Hamilton clubs became numerous. About the beginning of the twentieth century he entered American literature in a big way when Gertrude Atherton wrote a novelized biography under the title, "The Conqueror." If Mrs. Atherton was to be believed Hamilton was not only a super-man, he was just about the greatest genius of all time. Yet she was taken with complete seriousness.

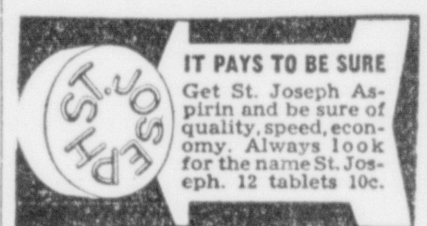

In 1920, Arthur H. Vandenberg, now Senator, wrote a book that he called "Alexander Hamilton, the Greatest American." In it Hamilton was portrayed as the greatest political and economic genius this country has produced. So great was the Hamilton myth still at that time that the extravagance of the word "greatest" was hardly recognized.

More recently Clyde G. Bowers has given us another picture of Hamilton; and this newest assessment by Henry Christman seems to show that the Hamilton reputation is on the decline.

COLOR CRUISE IN SEPTEMBER

Fliers To Make Stops
At Manistique And
Blaney Park

Leaving Traverse City on Monday morning, Sept. 30, pilots participating in the Michigan Aviation Color Cruise will fly across the Straits of Mackinac and spend four days in the Upper Peninsula, with stops scheduled at Manistique, Crystal Falls, Marquette and Blaney Park, Col. Floyd E. Evans, director of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, announced.

The cruise will be an all-expense trip, an entry fee of $50 paying for meals, lodgings and entertainment for six days.

"The flight, expected to attract more than 100 planes from all parts of the United States, is planned to coincide with the opening of partridge hunting season in the Northern Peninsula,"

Evans said. "It comes at a time when Michigan's forests are changing into autumn colors, an annual delight to flying beauty lovers and color photographers."

Pilots will spend the weekend of September 29-30 at Traverse City before starting on the cruise, and, in addition to stops in Upper Michigan, will land at Charlevoix before returning to Traverse City October 3. The state will provide mechanics and police protection for aircraft throughout the cruise.

A detailed and elaborate plan of entertaining pilots and their guests have been devised by Wayne J. Sheldon, cruise manager, in cooperation with the six communities at which the planes will stop. On a recent "pathfinding tour," he was assured by chambers of commerce and other groups that the best of meals, lodgings and entertainment will be provided for pilots.

Hunting guides and transportation to grouse territory will be available on and after October 1, opening day of the season. Flights will be made only in the morning, with afternoons and evenings reserved for recreation.

Each community has planned a program designed to entertain all participants. There will be sight-seeing tours, a visit to an operating lumber camp, community banquets, hunting and fishing parties, a lake shore fish fry, conducted tour through the Marquette prison, facilities for golfers, buffet supper-dance complete with floor show and a demonstration of new-type aircraft.

"We are going to considerable length to provide an all-around program," Sheldon said, "because we want to make it more than just a flying, hunting and sight-seeing trip."

PLAN X-RAYS AT STATE FAIR

Free Chest Examinations
Planned By Health
Dept.

Free chest x-rays will be offered at the Upper Peninsula State Fair August 27-Sept. 1 by the Upper Peninsula office of the Michigan Department of Health. Dr. Russell Pleune, director, has announced.

A portable x-ray unit will be located near the entrance to the exhibition building and will be operated daily from 1:30 to 9:30 P. M. Two technicians will be on duty during those hours and a total of 500 x-rays per day can be taken.

The service is part of the health department's campaign against tuberculosis.

Persons desiring chest x-rays will register at the health department booth inside the exhibition building. The negatives will be forwarded to the state laboratory for processing and reading. In all cases where the x-ray tests show negative readings for tuberculosis or show that no abnormalities of the heart, lungs or ribs exist, the findings will be sent directly to the individuals.

Where tests show positive tuberculosis readings or any abnormalities, the information will be forwarded to family physicians and the individuals will be notified to contact their doctor.

Considerable literature on tuberculosis, as well as other diseases, will be available at the health department booth. In addition motion pictures pertaining to public health also will be shown at the state fair.

State College Man Is Conferring With Resort Men

Marquette—L. R. Scheonmann, chief of Michigan State College's conservation institute which is responsible for a new program of educational research in the recreation field, is spending two weeks in the Upper Peninsula working with county agricultural agents, resort operators, chamber of commerce and tourist bureau officials interested in on-the-spot conferences regarding the resort industry.

The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, announcing the visit of Scheonmann, hopes that groundwork will be laid for a program looking toward improvement of resort facilities and the stepping up of the quality of services offered to travelers north of the Straits.

Scheonmann hopes to visit every county in Upper Michigan, and will spend a good part of next week in Ontonagon county working with Ontonagon County, Inc., in helping perfect county-wide plans for broader use of recreational facilities.

Pollen Count Low In Escanaba Area

The ragweed pollen count in Escanaba has so far during August ranged from zero to 44, which means that hayfever sufferers will not find a sneeze in a carload of local ozone.

First trace of pollen was on Aug. 5, when a rating of 7 was reported. This means that one speck of pollen was caught on the glass slide exposed at conservation department headquarters near the fairgrounds.

Highest count was on Aug. 17 when a rating of 44 was reported. This may seem high, until it is known that the Michigan department of health does not consider the condition dangerous for hayfever sufferers.

Escanaba is seldom reported in the pollen count bulletin issued by the state because the ratings have all been below the density considered as irritating to hayfever sufferers.

Admiral King's Yacht Cost U.S. $134,000 Plus

A gunboat with an organ loft, the Navy called this the USS Dauntless when they put it in war paint and made it "home" for Admiral King. Before Mrs. Anna Dodge Dillman sold it to the government (price: $154,365, and she got it back for $20,000), she called it the "Delphine."

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington (NEA).—It cost U. S. taxpayers $134,365 to provide luxurious living quarters for Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King when he was Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Fleet during the war. It also cost the services of 100 men and eight officers for the Admiral, who was also Chief of Naval Operations.

And if the Government had heeded the urgings of Senator H. Vandenberg from Michigan, made in behalf of his friend, Mrs. Anna Dodge Dillman, wealthy Detroit socialite, King's quarters would have cost much more.

This is revealed in the recent completion of yacht deal between Mrs. Dillman and the Government. She bought back her yacht, the Delphine, for $20,000 after selling it to the Maritime Commission at the start of the war for $154,365. The ship was commissioned the USS Dauntless for the war and was used to sail up and down the Potomac with King aboard. This enabled him to draw seapay—$800 a year extra. He lived on the ship and commuted to the Navy Department.

At the start of the war the Navy asked the Maritime Commission to buy Mrs. Dillman's 257-foot luxury yacht for use as a gunboat. This was the procedure prescribed by law. According to the Maritime Commission records, Mrs. Dillman first asked $1,000,000 for it. She said it cost $2,000,000 new in 1921. The Navy's estimate of the value of the boat was $650,000.

Maritime experts looked it over carefully and said it was worth only $154,365 to the Government, based on prices they were paying for other private craft for the emergency. Mrs. Dillman apparently considered this far too little. The next step in the transaction is revealed in the Maritime Commission files. It is a letter from Senator Vandenberg to Vice Admiral Emory S. Land, then Maritime Commissioner. Land at that time had the final say as to how much the Government would pay for the private boats it was buying.

Vandenberg sent along with the letter what he called an independent estimate of Mrs. Dillman's yacht, made by Smith Brothers, Inc., a firm of marine architects and appraisers in Cleveland, Ohio. The Smith Brothers' appraisal valued the boat at $850,000.

The letter urged Land to reconsider the price the Commission first set on the boat. The letter concluded with:

"I would appreciate it if you would advise me whether the evidence warrants changing the price."

Land wrote a brief note back to Vandenberg saying the $850,000 figure was "quite out of line." He said he couldn't change the price.

Mrs. Dillman then turned the whole thing over to her lawyers who later advised her to sell at the Commission's figure.

The boat, which was immediately earmarked for King's quarters, was said to be in good condition when turned over to the Navy. Part of its lavish furnishings are described in the Maritime Commission report:

"The saloon deck and forward smoking room are paneled in teak; stairways in butternut; captain's quarters, mahogany; card room, mahogany; and organ loft."

Radar, too. When the Navy took it over for King, elaborate radar equipment was installed. This was presumably to warn of approaching craft on the Potomac. Guns and emergency life rafts were added. The Navy says there were other "minor conversions."

The Dauntless was manned by a crew of 106 men and eight officers.

After Admiral King was retired, the Navy declared the Dauntless surplus and turned it back to the Maritime Commission for disposal. According to the law, the original owners of these boats have first chance to buy them back. The price is negotiated subject to the approval of the Maritime Commissioner. It was estimated it would take $360,000 to get the yacht back into the same shape it was in when the Government took it over. Rather than do anything with it, then, the Commission agreed to sell it back to Mrs. Dillman for $20,000.

Commission officials report, however, that Mrs. Dillman is still not satisfied with the deal and plans to sue for more money.

Commission officials also claim that the deal with Mrs. Dillman is not unusual. They say the Government is taking approximately that loss on all the boats it is selling back to its owners. When the owners don't offer enough money however, the Government is getting almost 50 per cent more by selling them to bidders, officials report.

Labor Shortage Clouds Business Boom Dream

BY MARC J. PARSONS
NEA Staff Correspondent

One year after V-J Day the United States still is struggling to fulfill the glowing reconversion promises of the first days of peace, and it appears today that industry is finally shifting into high gear.

Strikes caused the major industrial headaches in the first year of peace; now Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small warns of a threatened man-power shortage.

Certainly the U. S. is approaching the "full employment" figure of 60,000,000 civilian workers much faster than most experts expected. Upwards of 57,000,000 now are employed and unemployment is "remarkably low," Small says.

Unemployment figures vary from two to over four million. Many of these are technically "unemployable" and marginal workers. Many others are in transit from one job to another. Up until a month or so ago, the armed forces were pouring an average of 600,000 soldiers and sailors back into the labor market. Today the rate has dropped to about 100,000 monthly. These are quickly absorbed into industry.

Small feels that business is going to be forced to resort to one of two methods of getting the man-power it will need if full production is to be maintained. These are:

1. "Recruit back into the labor force large numbers of those who have left since V-J Day."

2. "Require that large amounts of overtime be worked if production schedules are to be met."

Production is sky-rocketing now that the major labor disputes and most of the minor ones have been settled. Reconversion director John R. Steelman says "total production of goods and services stands at the highest point in peacetime history. Production of over-the-counter consumer goods for the first half of 1946 was the highest in either peace or war."

But production hasn't even begun to catch up with the pent-up buyers' demands. Incomes remain high, sustaining buying power. Steelman listed consumer income (total income received by individuals in the country) at $153 billion a year, slightly below pre-V-J Day levels and still going up. Steel production finally is back up in the region of 90 per cent of capacity, but it is just making up for lost time. The domestic labor war this year cost it and the nation millions of tons of vitally needed steel.

Just how much was lost through the steel and coal strikes is a question, and the answer depends upon whose figures you accept. The American Iron and Steel Institute figures the strikes resulted in loss of 19,000,000 tons of "ingot and steel castings." Steelman sets the loss at "approximately 13,000,000 ingot tons."

This is what 13,000,000 tons of steel would have produced:

Enough steel for 1,000,000 small dwellings, plus

Enough steel for a washing machine and a stove for each of these new homes, plus

Enough steel for 1,700,000 automobiles, plus

Enough steel for 50 million one-quart "tin" cans, plus

Enough steel for all the wire bale ties made for farmers in the last nine years. (There seems to be a shortage of bale ties just as there is a shortage of homes, washing machines, stoves, automobiles and tin cans.)

Steel began to get back on its feet after the coal strike, and in June production rose from 43 per cent of capacity to 87 per cent. It now is running around 90 per cent, and George Ross, secretary of the Iron and Steel Institute says:

"If the steel industry can obtain the scrap and other raw materials it needs and if it is not hindered by other troubles beyond its control, the next 12 months may be better than any similar peacetime period on record from the standpoint of production."

Barring another period of labor strife it looks like the U. S. is off toward the long heralded post-war boom.

Flora Smith Gets New Car—For Free

Munising—With the new car situation as it is, almost impossible to get at any price, Miss Flora Smith thinks herself a pretty lucky person.

On Tuesday afternoon, a brand new super-deluxe station wagon complete with radio and heater arrived in Munising for Miss Smith. Brand new and didn't cost her a dime. The station wagon was won by her as the result of a bond drive contest she entered in the summer of 1945 while on duty in the European Theatre of Operations as a Wac.

She wrote a 250 word letter on the topic: "My Post War Plans and Savings". In the letter, she expressed the desire to attend a refresher course in florist school, and open her flower shop again. She also mentioned she was going to purchase a government surplus car, in order to facilitate delivery of flowers.

Miss Smith said yesterday she has fulfilled the wishes of her letter, all but for buying the surplus car, which more persons than she have found it impossible to do. It was unnecessary for her to get such a surplus car after she won the station wagon.

The contest was sponsored by the Chevrolet motor division and not by the government. The prizes included 15 station wagons, and a number of refrigerators and radios.

Miss Smith said the station wagon now at a local garage is to be delivered to her in a couple of days, after it is completely outfitted with radio and heater.

LEADERS LOSE 1 TO 4 POINTS

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Fairly active selling hit the stock market at the tail end of today's session, substantially reducing early advances and throwing numerous leaders for losses of 1 to 4 points.

Dealings were slow from the start but activity broadened appreciably in the final half hour as steels, motors and many bivets retreated. While modest plus signs persisted at the close, casualties were well in the majority. Transfers expanded to 84,000 shares against 76,000 Tuesday, and were the largest since August 13.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off 4 of a point at 26. Of 921 issues registering, 490 declined and 235 rose.

North American Light Preferred, in the curve, lost 4 points at $54 on 200 shares in the wake of the company's plans to pay off all claims on the senior stock. In front were Consolidated Steel Properties, $2.25, and Southland (on a lifted dividend) and St. Regis Paper. Turnover here was 220,000 shares, the same as yesterday.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO POTATOES—Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—Potatoes, arrivals 99 on track 243, total U. S. supplies 238,000 bushels; demand slow; market slightly weaker; Washington long whites, $3.40; Idaho russet Burbanks, $3.25 to $3.50; Colorado blue triplets, $2.65 to $2.75; cobbles, $2.40; Nebraska Red Warbur, $2.15 to $2.35 (all U. S. No. 1 quality).

CHICAGO GRAIN—Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—Commission houses with eastern connections took to the selling side of grain today and prices dropped as much as 4 1/2 cents in corn. The yellow cereal went to new lows for the year. Oats were weak but barley displayed independent strength.

Emphasis in the price de-control board's statement last night on the prospects of bumper feed grain crops and a smaller feed grain consuming animal population has considerably diminished responsibility for the downturn.

Corn finished 3 7/8 to 4 1/4, lower, January $1.30 1/8, and oats were off 1/2 to 1 1/8, August 76 to 78. December and March barley advanced a cent to $1.89 1/2.

Some uncertainty was caused in trade circles by doubt over the level at which new ceilings would be placed on livestock. Some grain men considered it possible that maximums would discourage feeding grain to hogs and cattle.

While grain men were pleased at the fact that cereals will remain free of control, there was no urgent desire to renew trading in wheat. Large food manufacturers have asked for return of this market because of its value as a hedging medium, but some traders thought the board should wait until sizable quantities of the grains are accumulated in commercial channels.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK—Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—Despite extremely short supplies of cattle and hogs all but high grade beef animals went to lower price levels today, influenced by announcement by the de-control board of price stabilization effective Friday.

Top beef steers, however, set another new price pinnacle at $28.40 a hundred pounds, and most good and ch. steers were 25 to 30 cents higher. Good cows 25 cents higher, and choice vealers steady at $18.00.

Medium to average good grade steers were steady to 50 cents lower, medium vealers $1.00 lower, bulls steady to 25 cents lower, and lower grade cows steady to 25 cents lower. Most steers brought $19.50 to $25.50.

Saleable hogs were down to about 2,000 and packers brought in only 300 head on direct consignment. These were the lowest Wednesday receipts in years. Yet values on the scale were 270 pounds went down $1.00 to $1.50, and heavier weights and sows were no more than steady to 50 cents lower.

The day's top hogs of $2.50 were paid sparingly. Shippers took 500.

No slaughter lamb market was established as bidding was about $2.50 under yesterday's levels and supplies stayed in first hands.

Receipts totaled 3,500 cattle, 400 calves, and 4,900 sheep.

TRADING TRENDS

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Stocks—Lower; late selling hits leaders.

Bonds—Narrow; some rails drift lower.

Cotton—Irregular; late selling depressed prices.

Chicago—Corn—Sharply lower, commission houses selling.

Oats—Lower in sympathy with corn.

Hops—$1.00 to $1.50 lower; top $2.50.

Cattle—Active, 25 to 50 cents higher on better grades; steady to 50 cents lower on lesser grades; top $28.40, a new record.

Fords Win To Hold Top Place In Local League

The Paper Makers squeezed a lone tally across in the seventh to win from the Ramblers 5 to 4 Monday night. Tuesday evening the Fords turned back the Manistique Tool team 6 to 2 and thus gained undisputed hold on first place in the league.

Mike Jones, Ford twirler, who for more than twenty years has been playing ball, both hard and soft is one of the best sensations of the league. Tuesday evening he had the Tool Makers completely baffled for five innings and had it not been for Hastings' homer, the Tool Makers would have been scoreless.

Mrs. D. Shipman Tells Lions Club About Recent Trip

A one hundred mile trip up the treacherous rapids of the Snake River, which forms the boundary line between Idaho and Washington, was the theme of an interesting lecture presented by Mrs. Dorothy Shipman before the Manistique Lions club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Shipman made the trip during her vacation last July, engaging passage on a 55-foot launch that carries the mail, and provides the freighting and passenger service for the sheep herders and mining prospectors that inhabit this lonely region.

The trip was featured in an issue of the Saturday Evening Post some months ago and Mrs. Shipman, intrigued by the account, made reservations for the trip herself.

Moving pictures taken by her during the trip were also shown at the meeting and added effectiveness to her account.

GRID COACH TAKES OVER

Emeralds Meet Negaunee Here September Sixth

Manistique high school's football prospects are looking up.

Coach Jerry Thompson, who assumed charge of the 1946 squad the first of the week expressed the opinion Wednesday morning after putting seventy-seven youngsters through their preliminary poses, that out of that number should come an eleven that would be a tough competition for any team in the Upper Peninsula.

"I like the way the boys are tackling the job," said Coach Thompson. "Their cooperative spirit is really impressive and they seem to be putting everything they have into their training." He added that he will insist that training rules be rigidly kept and that "football is going to be serious business for those who make the team."

There are about forty students on the Varsity team at present, but the coach expects to begin the weeding out process later this week and reduce the number to about thirty.

The first scrimmage will be held at the Shaw field Saturday afternoon when an effort will be made to determine who shall be eligible for first string positions.

The first game of the season is scheduled for September 6 when the Emeralds meet Negaunee on the local field.

The truck and furniture, property of the Swanson Furniture company of Gladstone, had been parked in front of the Blindman's store while the driver and his assistant had gone into the Liberty cafe, across the street, for lunch. On their return they found the furniture afire. The blanket that covered the furniture was badly damaged. There was also slight damage to a davenport.

The fire department was called to put out the blaze.

WILLIAM SINE IS STRICKEN

Suffers Heart Attack While On Trip To Minneapolis

William Sine, 62, Manistique merchant and resident of the city for the past thirty-five years, died suddenly Wednesday morning following a heart attack.

Mr. Sine was stricken about nine o'clock in the morning while he and Lawrence Hambro were motoring to Minneapolis. They had spent the night at Wausau, Wis., and were nearing Abbotsford, about thirty miles west of there, when the heart attack occurred.

Mr. Sine was born in Oakland county on July 23, 1884, and moved to Manistique in 1911. Throughout most of his residence here he conducted gas service stations or grocery stores. He retired from active business about a year ago. He was widely known in this area because of his ability as a hunter and fisherman.

Surviving him are three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Briggs, Mrs. Frances Hoar and Mrs. Averill Beaudry, all of Manistique. Funeral plans are not as yet complete. The body is at the Morton Funeral home.

High School Band Members To Be Issued Uniforms

Members of the Manistique high school band will be issued their uniforms this year the week preceding school opening, Joseph Giovannioli, school band director announced.

Each member of the band has been assigned a certain time to appear for a fitting, the schedule of which will appear in the Sunday issue of the Daily Press. The uniforms are to be distributed on August 26, 27 and 28. Any student who misses the hour assigned to him or her will in all probability not get a uniform as none will be reserved.

The band members have been sent individual notices through the mail so no one should miss or forget his or her appointed hour.

PILLARS OF STONE—Supporting the roof of the larger of the two caves at Burnt Bluff are five pillars of stone, their water-washed sides showing that centuries ago the Lake Michigan level was 20 feet higher than at present. Access to the cave is reached by a wooden ladder from the beach level.

INDIAN PAINTING—Authorities report that the painting on rock at the Burnt Bluff caves is the only Indian painting on rock in Michigan. The painting is about two feet high, and its red color has faded through the centuries and is partly overgrown with moss. Vandals have also defaced portions of it.

BURNT BLUFF CAVE OPENING—Little known and seldom visited are the caves in the limestone cliff bordering Big Bay de Noc at Burnt Bluff in Delta county. The caves may be reached only after a hard walk along the rocky shore under the shadow of the cliff—but an Indian painting near the cave entrance pictured above reveals that it may once have sheltered an Indian medicine man in prehistoric times.

Burnt Bluff Caves And Indian Rock Painting Far From Beaten Path

The caves at Burnt Bluff on the Garden peninsula in Delta county and the Indian painting on rock at their entrance are among the unusual attractions of the Upper Peninsula seldom seen because they are so far off the beaten track.

Formed centuries ago when the Great Lakes were going through one of their formative changes and the water level was about 20 feet higher than now, the caves were carved into the limestone bluff by wave action. Through the hundreds of years rocks have fallen from the ceiling and partly filled the entrances, but one of the caves still remains 50 or 60 feet deep, while another on the same level is smaller.

The Indian painting on rock, reported to be the only one in the state of Michigan, is in a niche of rock between the two caves. It can be reached only from the cave levels, and by traversing a narrow ledge of rock.

Painting Centuries Old

Authorities have never agreed on the authenticity of the painting—nor have they studied it carefully. The late Prof. Hunsdale of the University of Michigan, declared that if the painting is not genuine it has every appearance of being so. Inspection indicates the painting is centuries old, since slow-growing rock lichen has covered a portion of the painting.

The dull red coloring pictures what appears to be a large octopus encircling a human figure with its tentacles. On the fanciful side, there have been theories that the painting was made by an Indian from the coast—and that it may have been an Indian of the crew on the ill-fated Griffin, first sailing ship on the Great Lakes. The Iroquois Indians of New York state are known to have often raided through this section of the upper Great Lakes.

The caves themselves are not large nor do they extend far into the bluff, which rises nearly 200 feet above Big Bay de Noc a short distance south of Favette.

Openings Were Dynamited

Stories have been told that deeper caverns do exist, but no determined effort has been made to explore the occasional meager openings in the bluff. Here and there near the base of the bluff are openings which appear to have been closed by falling rock, and the story is told that a score or so years ago during the period when Floyd Collins was caught and died in a Kentucky cavern, people residing near Burnt Bluff dynamited cave openings to prevent such a tragedy there.

The Indian painting near the larger cave, together with the finding several years ago of a skull and an arrowpoint in a pathway on a ledge have led to further speculation that the caves may at one time have been a "magic place" used by Indian medicine men.

Whatever the legends surrounding them, the caves and the Burnt Bluff shore are among the most fascinating in this area to those who like to explore off the beaten path. For the caves can be reached only after a long and difficult walk along the rocky shore, and by climbing from the shore level to the cave entrances.

Sees Television Boost For Dance

New York, (AP)—Paul Belanger, director of the music-dramatic productions for CBS television, has a theory that "the dance will be to television what music is to radio."

People thirsting for the sights of television will never be satisfied just watching a bunch of musicians. "Something visual has to go on for music," Belanger argues, "and dancing is one answer to that."

The proof of the pudding is an evening spent in front of a television set. Dancing, which for many people is the least appealing of all the original dramatic forms, actually can be more fun to watch than anything except possibly sports events, they say. Part of Belanger's explanation is that "dancing is a fluid form; singers, for instance, are static."

The 75-denier yarn used in women's rayon hose measure 59,527 yards to the pound.

BOARD SEEKS MISSING PAIR

Registrants Were To Have Left For Draft Exams

Local draft board officials requested yesterday that anyone knowing the whereabouts of Emil Koscinak and Wilfred J. LaFond, two of the men scheduled to leave here Tuesday night for pre-induction physical examinations in Chicago, notify the board here.

Harry Drake, 616 South Tenth street, was named leader of the group of nine registrants who left Tuesday night and received physical examinations yesterday in Chicago.

Fourteen men, including three credited to Delta county who are not now living here, were scheduled in the original order.

Two other men in the group who did not leave Tuesday night are Raymond Polmatier and Merrill Gibbs.

Teeth Are Bad, Maybe It's Nerves

(P) Newsfeatures

Berlin—The war of nerves the United Nations waged on Germany has turned the attention of a German dental scientist to the effect of emotional strain upon teeth.

Dr. W. Wegner, writing in Der Morgen, organ of the Liberal-Democratic Party, points out that altogether too little attention was paid in pre-war times to the influence of psychic instability upon the teeth.

"It can be said in principle," observed the doctor, who holds both medical and dental degrees, "that every activity of a living organism can be influenced psychically, more or less. Then why should this not be true of teeth?"

Wegner points out that dogs in their grief over the transfer from a loved master to a new owner often suffer from loose teeth and that the gums tighten up as soon as the old master turns up again.

Similarly, the German scientist believes, various human diseases of the teeth or mouth are due directly to mental strain or to unusual excitement such as that from bombing.

"It has frequently been found that, just as soon as the equilibrium of the soul of patients whose nerves break down is restored, ailments of the mouth, the gums or the teeth ceased even without local treatment," he said.

GOBERT-McFARLAND

Mrs. Laura Gobert, 520 North Tenth street, city, announces the marriage of her daughter, Alice Marian, to Ellsworth Eugene McFarland, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McFarland, Spring Valley, Minn.

The wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, August 17, at 1:30 o'clock in the rectory of All Saints Catholic church. The Rev. Fr. Joseph Schaul performed the double ring ceremony.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, city, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride was attractive in a dressmaker suit of gray wool pin stripe gaborline with matching hat and black and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and white gladioli. Her only jewelry was a gold and pearl pin and earring set, a gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid chose for her sister's wedding, a light green wool suit with brown accessories and her shoulder spray consisted of yellow roses and bronze azaria mums.

Mrs. Gobert chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue and white silk crepe dress with white accessories. Mrs. McFarland, mother of the groom was attired in a navy blue and white crepe dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of roses and mums.

After a short reception at the Gobert residence, a wedding dinner, with covers for 18 immediate relatives and friends of the family, was served at the Log Cabin. A two-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, flanked on either side by yellow tapers centered the serving table. Bouquets of pastel gladioli decorated the home for the reception.

The bride attended All Saints Catholic school and has since been employed at the Lowe Inc., Co., and Nash Motors of Kenosha, Wis., where she resided at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Rella Ammerman.

The groom attended schools in Spring Valley, Minn., and spent 39 months in the U. S. Navy, 29 of which were spent overseas in the Pacific theatre, achieving the rating of Chief Motor Machinist Mate.

After a week's trip to points of interest in Wisconsin, the couple will be at home in Spring Valley, Minn., where the groom is employed.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. McFarland and daughter, Ione of Spring Valley, Minn.

ALWORDEN-LIVERMORE

Miss Doreen June Alworden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Alworden, 914 Superior avenue, city, and Orson E. Livermore, Rapid River, son of Mrs. Julius Snortum, Munising, Mich., were united in marriage in the rectory of All Saints Catholic church on Monday August 19, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Joseph Schaul performed the ceremony.

The couple were attended by Regina Alworden, sister of the bride, and Kenneth Livermore, brother of the groom.

For her wedding the bride chose an aqua street length dress with white accessories and her corsage was of asters, roses, gardenias and daisies.

The bridesmaid was attired in a peach street length dress with white accessories and her corsage was similar to that of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Alworden chose an aqua colored dress with black flowers, and matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories.

A reception was held at the bride's home from 3 to 5 o'clock and a wedding dinner with covers laid for forty guests was served at the Chicken Shack. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the serving table.

The couple left on a short wedding trip to an announced destination. For her going away costume the bride wore a brown suit. They will make their home in Rhinelander.

The bride attended All Saints Catholic school and graduated from Gladstone high school, with the class of '45.

The groom attended Munising high school and is employed on the Soo Line as a fireman.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Julius Snortum, Munising, Mich.; Mrs. Minnie Payne, Green Bay, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Livermore, Wells, Mich.; Lucille Gollinger, Munising, Mich.; Robert Peterson, Escanaba, and Cleo Richter, Salem, Oregon.

William Gabriel on Terminal Leave

Ensign William Gabriel arrived Wednesday from Durham, North Carolina, where he has been teaching R. O. T. C. at Duke University. He is on terminal leave. In September he will enter the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gabriel, 912 Michigan avenue.

JOHN STANDING FATALY HURT

Mike Murray Injured In Railroad Accident Tuesday

John Standing was killed and Mike Murray was seriously injured in a railroad accident Tuesday at Minneapolis, according to word received here.

Both Standing and Murray are railroaders residing in Minneapolis.

Details of the accident were little known here, but it was said that Standing, who was a fireman, jumped from the engine cab and sustained a broken neck.

John is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Standing, Sr., Minneapolis, formerly of Gladstone, and a cousin of Mayor Fred Schram, Peter Standing, Jr., Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. George Kennedy and Paul and James Schram, city.

Murray is the father of Mrs. Al Maskart of Gladstone.

Mr. Standing, Mrs. John Stock, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. August Brassick and Mrs. Al Maskart and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Alworden left last night for Minneapolis.

Funeral services for Standing will be conducted Friday morning.

Former Gladstone Man Gets Citation

Andrew J. Reubens, Muskegon, formerly of Gladstone, and members of his unit, in the Army Air force built a pre-oiling unit which cut the "breaking-in" time on overhauled plane motors from 45 minutes to 5 minutes, it is learned.

This was done when Reubens was a staff sergeant and chief of a welding shop at a large air depot of the Far East Air Forces in New Guinea. In addition to cutting the time of "wearing in" to a minimum it was more efficient in that it assured oil getting to every part.

"I wish to commend the initiative and ingenuity in constructing a pre-oiling unit," wrote the deputy commander. "The example set by these men in the engineering and welding departments will serve as an inspiration to all officers and enlisted men."

Sgt. Reubens was discharged from service after returning to this country in December. He had spent 38 months in Australia, New Guinea and the Philippines.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reubens, 528 Montana avenue, city, he now resides with his wife at Muskegon.

Obituary

JOHN F. CARD

Funeral services largely attended, were conducted yesterday afternoon at the Kelley Funeral home for John F. Card, prominent Gladstone resident and retired industrialist, who died suddenly Sunday evening. Officiating at the rites was the Rev. Glen Kjellberg, pastor of Memorial Methodist church.

During the services Noble Swenson sang "Rock of Ages" and "Oh Love That Will Not Let Me Go," accompanied by Mrs. Edward Olson, Jr.

Flowers, which literally banked the chapel room, were in charge of Mrs. Walter Erickson, Mrs. D. A. Mathison, Mrs. John Fawcett, Mrs. L. N. Empson and Mrs. J. J. Poffenberger.

Bearing the body to its final resting place in the Gardens of Rest were Dr. A. H. Miller, G. W. Jackson, Wm. S. Skellenger, G. E. Dehlin, Ray Gazlay and Sid Gordon. Masonic burial rites were held at the grave with Gladstone Lodge No. 396, F. & A. M., in charge.

There was an honorary escort composed of Wm. L. Marble, L. N. Empson, J. D. Staple, and O. H. Anderson, city; Charles Slining, Marquette, and Matthew N. Smith, William Shepeck and Wm. Kennedy, Escanaba.

Scout Troop 456 Resumes Meetings

Meetings of Troop 456, Boy Scouts, of the Methodist church, are to be resumed Monday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the church, following a summer layoff.

Scoutmaster Mason Meyer requests all members of the troop to be present.

While no meetings were held during the summer months, the troop was far from inactive and many of the members attended camp at Red Buck.

Mary Ellen and Kathleen Tardiff have returned from Milwaukee where they spent the past ten days visiting relatives.

Upper Peninsula Proposed For 1948 Olympic Winter Sports

MEETING HERE ON AUGUST 31

Plans For Enlargement Of Facilities Will Be Discussed

Spurred by the possibility that the winter sports program of the 1948 Olympics may be held in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, winter sports leaders will meet in the exhibition building at the U. P. state fair on Saturday August 31. George Grenholm, president of the U. P. Winter Sports Council, announced yesterday.

The meeting is called to make preliminary plans for vast enlargement of the winter sports facilities in the Upper Peninsula and to plan a sports program on a peninsula-wide basis.

The possibility of staging the Olympics winter sports program is the Upper Peninsula is still a very remote one, inasmuch as London, England has been designated as the site for the 1948 Olympics. However, there is a possibility that England may forego all of the Olympic program or at least the winter sports phase of the international events because of economic conditions.

At least one member of the winter sports committee, J. Lee Barrett, is reported to be plugging for the location of the Upper Peninsula as a site for the winter sports program of the Olympic games in the event that there is a shift in present plans.

The peninsula already has gained international fame as a winter sports center, but facilities for the broad Olympic winter sports program still are woefully inadequate in the Upper Peninsula.

The meeting at the U. P. State Fair, which will be held in the third floor of the exhibition building at 2:30 o'clock Saturday, Aug. 31, is the first of a series of meetings planned by the U. P. Winter Sports Council to further the development of U. P. Winter sports facilities.

In any event, the 1952 Olympic games are almost certain to be held in the United States and Michigan's Upper Peninsula may be in ideal position to bid for the winter sports games at that time if adequate facilities are available.

Costley-Roberts Win City Doubles Tennis Tournament

Doris Costley and Mary Helen Roberts captured the women's doubles title in the city tennis tournament this week, defeating the Lois Aschinger, Jean Bourter team in the final after dropping the first set, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. The match was played on the Ludington park courts.

In the semi-final round, the champions had eliminated Rita Perrin, Betty LaChapelle and the runners-up won from Elaine DeGrand and Joyce Germanson.

One semi-final round match remains to be played in the men's doubles tournament.

Protegee of Hope In Caddy Tourney

Columbus, O., Aug. 21 (AP)—Bing Crosby and Bob Hope took a setback today at the National Caddy tournament as their handsome protegee, Roger Dunn of Los Angeles, bowed out to Gene Allmon of Kansas City, 3 and 2.

Dunn dropped out of the picture along with another "glamor boy"—barefooted Bill Nichols with the cross-handed grip. Norm Goelck of Detroit took care of Nichols, a 3 and 1.

But the No. 1 upset over the 6900-yard Ohio State university course was the defeat of co-medalist Bob Hargis of Cleveland.

Ralph Holguin, lanky 16-year-old swinger from San Antonio, Tex., tied the Clevelandan on the regulation 18 holes and won on the 19th 1-up.

Bob Peters of Kansas City, fired a two-over-par 74 today to tie Detroit's John Tommaso for the tournament's best score so far.

The third round of the tournament starts tomorrow afternoon.

Veeck Gives Indians Back To The Customers

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

Cleveland, (NEA).—Young Bill Veeck has given the Indians back to the Cleveland fans, announcing the fact in two-thirds of a page newspaper advertisement, which is unique among baseball owners, to say the least.

"The flap of the Wigwag is wide open," President Veeck informs the paying guests, "your comments and suggestions will be welcome. From now on you can count on having fun at League Park and the Stadium."

The first thing the non-conforming Veeck did was declare a ladies' day without reservations. Previously the gals had to sit upstairs behind the boxes. Veeck made all upper deck seats available. Husbands or escorts may sit upstairs with the fair ones for the price of their own general admission or ladies may sit downstairs with their partners.

Because Larry MacPhail of the Yankees gave away 500 pairs of nylons, Veeck presented lucky stool holders with 503. A total of 21,374 women turned out on a Thursday, stood in line four abreast for a block and a half from the entrance. The result was that there were 14,174 men in the assemblage, making a total of 35,548. The game was in the fourth inning before the crowd could get in the park.

With an eye to the future, Veeck put a 60-cent tag on tickets for children under 12.

A band bedecked in Indian costume, war paint and battle dress, beats the drums, musically kids the athletes, umpires and the boss. An entire tennis occupies a tepee pitched in old League Park. When the Yankees arrived for a night engagement, Veeck added acrobats and jugglers to the music and fireworks, the piece de resistance being a battleship sunk by an atomic bomb.

With the cooperation of three radio stations, games at home and abroad are now broadcast, the only restriction being that once a game is on the air the station must carry it through to its conclusion.

To accommodate information-starved fans, telephone switchboards have been installed at League Park and the Stadium. Information about the game, players, weather or Lou Boudreau's ankles is courteously supplied.

Several new faces have appeared in the Wigwag—Webber, Berry, Charlie Gassaway, Jordan and Becker. This to the customers is something in the way of evidence that Veeck intends to try to improve the Tribe.

Although he obtained a late start, Veeck is shooting at the million mark in home attendance, which isn't half bad for a fifth place club. The Indians went above 700,000 with the arc-light engagement with the Yankees.

The Cleveland record is 912,863 established when Tim Lincecum led the club to its only pennant in 1920.

This is unusual because it was established at antiquated League Park, with its capacity of 23,000. What with the huge Municipal Stadium and its 80,000 seats, one would suspect that the record would have been broken when the Tigers to next to closing day before succumbing following the rebellion against Old Oscar Ostracized Vitt in 1940.

Veeck has caught on in Cleveland to such an extent that more games will be played in Municipal Stadium next season.

With all his showmanship, Veeck knows he will have to have a winner to keep them coming, but the young man is a hustler. In Milwaukee he demonstrated that he knows how to build one.

Fourteen major league owners could well emulate Bill Veeck. Until he came along Larry MacPhail alone made an effort to keep the game close to the public.

These are inflated times in baseball and everything else.

And the time for baseball owners to win friends and influence people is while the parks are bulging.

Yost, whose 40-year career in Michigan athletics as coach and athletic director made Wolverine football teams famous throughout the nation, died Tuesday afternoon at his home following a gall bladder attack. He was 75 years of age and had been in failing health for several years.

While flags on the nearby university campus float at half staff, the body of "the coach" who put the Wolverines on the football map will be removed from the Delph funeral home at 11 a. m. tomorrow to lie in state at Yost's Stratford Drive home until the hour of the services.

Pallbearers at the funeral will include several of the brightest stars from teams coached by "the Grand Old Man" of Michigan athletics.

Besides Bennie Oosterbaan, former All-American end now Michigan's backfield coach; Paul Goebel of Grand Rapids, Mich., 1922 Wolverine captain, and Robert Baldwin of Kalamazoo, Mich., 1925 Michigan captain, the pallbearers will include Vernon Hillery of Ft. Worth, Texas, a Michigan alumnus; J. Fred Lawton of Detroit, who composed the lyrics to "Varsity," Michigan's football song, and Andrew S. Baker, formerly Yost's private secretary and now secretary of the board in control of University of Michigan athletics.

Old Timers Golf Tournament Will Be Held Saturday

Eighty golfers—all over 50 years—from every section of the peninsula are expected here Saturday for the annual Veterans Tournament at North Shore Golf Club.

The tournament was originally scheduled for Riverside Country Club, but was transferred to North Shore after the Riverside clubhouse burned a month ago.

Paul Christensen, general chairman, and his committee including Willie Hansen, James Mikolasek, Harry Scott and Roland Strolle, have lined up a tournament program that will get underway with medal play at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Five flights are expected and there will be prizes in each flight for the winner and runner up and the tail enders. There will also be the championship prize and medal prize. A trophy prize will also be offered for the high on No. 3 and No. 5 holes.

A buffet lunch will be served at noon and a banquet in the evening.

As an added feature this year a one-half stroke handicap will be given for each year over 50. For instance, a 70-year-old golfer would get 10 strokes on 18 holes. The handicap, however, will not count for the tournament championship.

At least 30 Riverside and North Shore golfers will head the club representatives, while nine are expected from Ironwood and veterans from other clubs are also expected.

Marlin Thomas of Iron Mountain is the defending champion. He defeated Walter Isenberf of Marinette, last year at Iron Mountain.

DOUBLE VICTORY GOES TO YANKS

White Sox Drop Opener 10 To 1, Nosed In Nightcap, 5-4

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—The New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox today, eking out a 12-inning 5-4 decision in the nightcap after winning the opener in a breeze, 10-1.

Pinchhitter Nick Etten drove in the winning run in the 12th after Johnny Lindell had opened with a triple and relief pitcher Earl Caldwell purposely pitched the next two to load the bases.

A homer by Joe Dimaggio, his 22nd, tied the score in the seventh and stretched his consecutive hitting streak to 13 straight games.

Dimaggio also homered in the opener as did Charlie Keller and Aaron Robinson, to enable Spud Chandler to coast to his 16th victory.

ATHLETICS TRIP DETROIT, 4 TO 1

Virgil Trucks Knocked Out Of Box In Sixth Inning

Philadelphia, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics knocked Virgil Trucks out of the box in the sixth inning to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4 to 1, today. Trucks had beaten the A's five times this year.

Phil Marchildon allowed only seven hits and became the first Mack pitcher to win 10 games this season against 12 defeats.

The Athletics started in on Trucks in the first inning to score a run after two were out on a pass to Barney McCosky and successive singles by Pete Suder and Sam Chapman.

The Tigers tied it at 1-1 in the third after two were out on Eddie Lake's double to left and George Kell's scratch hit on which Marchildon threw wild to first.

The A's broke the tie after two were out in the fourth on consecutive triples by George McQuinn and Hank Majeski and then went on to salt the triumph away in the sixth with two more on McCosky's double, Trucks' fumble of Suder's bunt, Chapman's single to center and Gene DeSautels' fly to right.

Today's game was Detroit's last of the season in Philadelphia, where the Tigers have won seven and lost four this year.

By sweeping the two-game series, the A's knocked the Tigers deeper into third place, 17½ games back of the league-leading Boston Red Sox.

While Philadelphia collected only seven hits off Trucks they were bunched effectively to produce all the runs, two of the safe- ties coming in the first score in the opening inning, two more meaning another run in the fourth and two more contributing to the last two tallies in the sixth.

Frank (Stubby) Overmire, who retired the last Philadelphia batsman in the sixth, and George Case, who hurled the seventh and eighth, pitched hitless ball between them the rest of the way.

Detroit threatened to make a ball game of it when Dick Wakefield and Roy Cullenbine singled with one away in the ninth but Marchildon got Jimmy Bloodworth to hit into a double play to end the game.

The Tigers move from here to Washington, where Al Benton is slated to pitch the opener of a three-game series tomorrow night.

Colorado Campus Is Doggone Doggy

Boulder, Colo. (AP)—Anyone putting up a "no dogs" sign on the University of Colorado campus probably would be bitten promptly—by students if not by dogs—because:

Hundreds of canines come to the campus daily and many attend classes, though most fall asleep.

One Scottie named Jeannie followed her mistress, the alumni office secretary, to work each day for years. When the mistress resigned, Jeannie continued to show up promptly at eight every day, knock off an hour for lunch and return to the office at one.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

C. E. Forsythe, state director of high school athletics, will conduct a football clinic at Kingsford next Monday and he may have something to say at that time about the all-star football game held last week end at Negaunee. Forsythe tossed all of his weight against the all-star game, trying to wreck it, but he failed. The tremendous success of the event indicates that it has already grown too big to be squelched in future years by action of the state high school athletic association. In any event, it seems certain that Forsythe will take the opportunity afforded him at Kingsford to explain his stand on the all-star game and, perhaps, to outline what, if anything, the state association plans to do about it in future years.

The football clinic at Kingsford, unlike rules meetings held in this area in previous years, will be an all-day affair, highlighted by the appearance of H. V. Porter, of Chicago, secretary of the National Football Rules committee. Because it is a day affair instead of an evening meeting, the event probably will attract a large number of coaches but fewer football officials than usual. George Kuwichek, Escanaba football coach, a member of the National Federation rules committee, will discuss rules changes at the Kingsford clinic.

There has been no decision yet regarding whether St. Joseph will field a football team this fall, but an announcement may be made within the next several days. The school has not selected a coach and if the Trojans are represented in football this season, it will be necessary to employ a coach not connected with the school faculty, following a policy that has been in effect for the past several years. Whether this will be a Trojan football team this fall probably will depend upon a count of noses to determine how many players are available. It is reported that the school already has a schedule available.

"The all-star football game will be staged again next year at Negaunee and probably the following year, as well. Wassberg can keep it indefinitely if he wants to, since it was his idea and his battle craved its announcement that made the event possible. Wassberg has indicated, however, that he will be willing to pass it around after the all-star show has been held three years at Negaunee. Bidders undoubtedly will include Menominee, Iron Mountain and Escanaba—and probably many other cities—when the time comes to move the football feature out of Negaunee. When it does move, it will probably go to a city in the South section of the peninsula.

Hit and Miss—They are looking for a $1,000 gate at the Crystal Falls-Iron Mountain NWM baseball championship game at Iron Mountain Sunday. The take was $600 at Crystal Falls last Sunday. . . . The Iron Kings of Kingsford and their American Legion sponsors are on the outs. . . . A lot of interest is being shown in the junior baseball tournament planned here next week by the city recreation department. . . . The tournament is in two divisions—for players 9 to 13 for youths 14 to 17, inclusive.

CARDS DROPPED BY BRAVES, 4-3

St. Louis, Aug. 21 (AP)—The veteran Silas Johnson left 13 runners stranded on the bases tonight as the Boston Braves edged out the St. Louis Cardinals 4 to 3 to drop the Red Birds a game and a half behind the Brooklyn Dodgers in the torrid National League pennant race.

The triumph was a costly one for the Braves since Dr. Robert F. Hyland, Cardinal club physician, reported from St. John's hospital shortly after the game ended that First Baseman Ray Sanders had suffered a bad fracture of the upper left arm in a seventh inning collision with Evv Dusak of the Red Birds and would be out the rest of the season.

Dusak, driving hard down to first after laying down a bunt, ran against Sanders' arm while he was taking the throw from Third Baseman Froilan Fernandez. Johnny Hopp took over the first basing for the Braves.

The ball was knocked from Sanders' hand and he was charged with an error which led to the tying run for the Cardinals after Boston had jumped into a two-run lead in the fifth with a brace of tallies on successive hits by Fernandez, Mike McCormick and Sanders.

The Braves, however, added a tally in the eighth on Danny Littwiler's double and Phil Masi's single and manufactured another in the ninth on singles by Fernandez and McCormick.

Enos Slaughter, first up in the ninth, parked his tenth homer of the season, but Johnson retired the next three men in order.

Although he walked six and yielded nine safeties, Johnson succeeded in leaving three runners stranded in the third and sixth innings and a pair in each of the second and fifth frames.

The Braves garnered a total of 11 blows, including a pair of damaging triples by McCormick, off Starter Al Brazle and his reliever, Ted Wilks, who came in with one out in the ninth to halt the Braves. Boston . . . 000 020 011—4 11 1

Reds Best Giants By 7 and 2 Count

Cincinnati, Aug. 20 (AP)—Johnny Hetki pitched and batted Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over the New York Giants today to strengthen the Reds hold on fifth place in the National League.

The 24-year-old rookie right-hander limited the Giants to six hits while collecting three of 13 safeties yielded by a trio of New York hurlers.

Grady Hatton belted his 14th home run of the season with one out in the seventh inning.

New York tallied once in the second and again in the eighth when pinch-hitter Ernie Lombardi hit for the circuit.

Indians Edged Out By Washington, 4-3

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—Early Wynn survived a ninth inning rally by Cleveland here tonight as Washington edged out the Indians 4-3, before a crowd of 24,123.

Trailing, 4-2, entering the ninth, the Indians pushed across a run with one out on singles by Lou Boudreau and Jimmy Wadell, plus an error by Third Baseman Cecil Travis, but with the tying run on second base Wynn disposed of Pinch-hitter Ken Keltner and George Case on outfield flies.

The Senators shelled Charley Gassaway from the mound by scoring all their runs in the first three innings.

Beaver Clicks In Trap Shoot

Vandalia, O., Aug. 21 (AP)—Walter Beaver of Conshohocken, Pa., a former Grand American trap shoot winner, broke 25 straight targets in a four-way shoot-off today to capture the North American Clay Target Championship.

Beaver, outdistanced two other former grand winners and a newcomer to trapshooting ranks to gain his title.

After breaking 199 out of 200 in the 16-year contest yesterday, Beaver shot it out today with Fred Harlow, 68-year-old Newark, O., marksman who won the Grand back in 1908, Don Engle, bry of Vermilion, last year's Grand titlist, and Sterling Matson, a 24-year-old from Racine, Wis., who broke his first 100 in a row yesterday to slide into the title shoot.

Matson, who became a trap shooting expert while serving as a corporal in the Army Air Forces, hit 24 of 25 in the shoot-off to grab second place. He missed his 19th target.

Engleby and Harlow finished deadlocked for third place after the first 25-target flight, each downing 23, and Engleby went on to crack 25 in a row in the additional play-off to capture third place. Harlow dropped his 18th target.

Today's finalists were the survivors of a record field of 800 which failed to complete the regular round of firing yesterday because of darkness.

Mrs. Rose Palmer, a Chicago socialite, broke 23 out of 25 targets in another shoot-off to grab the women's version of the North American.

Her record was two targets better than that of Mrs. Frances Lee of Fayetteville, N. Y., who had tied the Chicagoan for first place in the first round of the 16-year, 100-target event yesterday. Each had hit 95 out of 100 in the regular firing.

ROOKIE'S BLOW DEFEATS CUBS

Home Run Bat Produces 1 To 0 Victory For Phillies

Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—Del Ennis, rookie outfield star, used his home run but here today to produce a 1-0 victory for the Philadelphia Phillies over the Chicago Cubs. Ennis smashed his No. 11 round tripper with two out in the top half of the ninth for the only run of the game.

Ennis' hit enabled Dick Mauney to gain his third win after a three inning one-hit relief stint. Hugh Mulcahy started and went six innings.

Between them, Mulcahy and Mauney limited the Cubs to four scattered singles. Russ Bauers, former Pittsburgh pitcher and recently signed by the Cubs as a free agent, was the loser. In making his first start for the Chicagoans, Bauers allowed seven hits.

German Police Dog Joins New Force
Greenville, Miss. (P)—Meet Franz, a German police dog that, after being taken prisoner of war, wound up padding a police beat in the United States.
Franz worked for the German army until it went out of business. He was "captured" about 30 miles out of Munich, sole remaining guard at a Nazi concentration camp abandoned in the face of the American advance.
An American soldier, A. G. Woods of Greenville, adopted the dog and brought it home. And when Woods became a policeman here, he took Franz along to work. Now they make the rounds of the business district together.
A London society loans pictures and sculptures at hire rates depending on the value of the work.

ICED TEA

A black and white illustration of a woman in a kimono. She is wearing a kimono with vertical stripes and a wide, patterned obi. Her skirt also features a bold geometric pattern. She has a flower in her hair and is looking towards the viewer with a slight smile. The illustration is done in a sketchy, artistic style.
